A Good Dog Story.

It does not make any difference whether your name is Keyser or not, if you want to buy a dog, there is one for sale cheap on a canal boat now braving the billows somewhere east of Frankfort. The Captain of the boat is an Oswego man, and it is but one short week since he spliced his mainbrace and let out the reefs in his driver, and got three sheets in the wind, and made all necessary preparations for a prosperous voyage. His wife sang, "Write me a Letter, Love," in the cabin; his children played on deck; his steeds aired their frames on the tow path, his hand was on the rudder, and his mate was just recovering from his farewell attack of delirium tremens in the forward cabin. The Captain gazed proudly around him, and could think of nothing necessary to complete his happiness; but his wife, wiser than he, thought they needed a dog—a nice Newfoundland—to play with the children, fish them out when they fell in the canal, and watch the deck hands when the Captain was off after groceries.

Coming through West Utica on Saturday the Captain bought a nice Newfoundland dog. He got him at a bargain; in fact, he got him for nothing, so to speak, because the man who owned the dog was not around at the time the bargain was made. The Captain had the dog, but still he was not happy. The dog had a way of barking at passing crafts, and so drew upon his Captain's boat frequent showers of coal and wood, and he would dive down the steep steps into the cabin and suddenly upset the Captain's wife. Once he lit right on the table and spoiled a pound of butter, and he was altogether too playful.

Yesterday the Captain, who is a pious man, tied up, and put out his plank just east of the city, and started with his children to go to the park and to observe the day after the manner of this vicinity. The dog started, too, and as soon as he got on shore he began to caper and wag his tail, and so waggled one of the children flat on its blessed back. The baby yelled, and the Captain made some tender remarks as he set it on its pious feet and some other remarks as he shook his fist at the dog. The dog misunderstood the man, but he knocked the other child into the canal, and the father, without waiting to make any remarks, jumped in after it. The dog, being to the water-born, knew just what to do, and he went cavorting off to get a good headway, barking to himself at every jump, and just as the man got to the top of the water with his darling child, the dog took a flying leap of about twenty feet and struck on top of the man. Well, the water that man spurted around was boiling hot with the oaths he sputtered with it, and his wife pranced around on the deck of the boat and flung a pole to the old man, which the dog promptly dragged and pulled ashore, and that captain was nearly drowned before he trod the sod again.

The dog is an intelligent animal—very intelligent, indeed; and just as soon as he saw that mariner's face he knew that something was wrong, so he slunk up the plank on board. The captain gathered what loose granite and lumber he could in a hurried but earnest search, and marched up the plank, the grimmest figure of Neptune ever done in Mohawk Valley mud. As soon as he got on board he opened a hot fire on the dog, and that sagacious brute went yelping through the forward hatch, and struck in the bunk, where the mate lay musing about the devil. When the mate saw the dog he thought the evil one had come for him sure enough, and he braced himself for one last fight, so that when the captain jumped down in pursuit of the dog, there was a mutual misunderstanding all around. The captain's wife looked down and tried to explain, but there was a confused whirlpool of bunk boards and hair, and bedding, and legs, and arms, with an occasional infusion of dog, that it seemed idle to waste her breath in talking to such a circus.

To-day the bow of that fatal craft cuts the water solemnly, and at the helm stands the wreck of that captain, fastened together with strips of plaster, and smelling of liniment, and ever and anon he surrenders the rudder to his wife, while he goes forward to hammer a dejected dog, which is for sale, or to listen to the ravings of the maniac confined under the forward hatch.—Utica Herald.

The Boston Young Lady.

SHE COMES, SEES AND CONQUERS ELI PERKINS.

From the New York Graphic.

The Boston young lady has arrived at Saratoga. I mean the real literary young lady—the Siege-of-Troy girl. She grew up in Boston, and graduated at Vassar college last year. She wears eye-glasses, and is full of wisdom. She scans Homer, rattles the verb "icipo" like the multiplication table, sings Anacreon to the old Greek melodies, and puts up her hair after the statue of the Venus of Milo. There is no end to her knowledga of the classical dictionary; and when it comes to Charles Lamb or Sydney Smith—Sotherns of literature—those who never wrote much, but got the credit of every good joke in England—she can say their jokes as a Catholic says his beads. If you ask her how she likes babies, she answers:

"How?' Well, as Charles Lamb remarked, 'I like 'em b—b—boiled.'"

Ask her anything, and she will always lug in a quotation from some pedantic old fool like Dr. Johnson or Swift or Jack Bunsby, just to show you that she is up in literature, and that you are—green. Not a single original idea, but one constant "as Socrates said," or "as Pluto remarked," "as Diogenes observed." Yesterday, some sharp, shrewd, original New York young ladies got hold of the pedantic business, and introduced a funny paraphrase on Miss Boston's language.

"Do you love music, Sallie?"

"Well, 'yes,' as the poet observed."

"How many glasses did you drink this morning?"

"'Six,' as Mr. Daball pathetically remarked in his arithmetic."

"Dance the round dances?"

"'No, as the lord mayor of London quietly observed as John Ruskin asked him for the loan of $4."

The Boston girl is so well posted that she wins triumphs over you by a sort of literary "bluff" game. She attributes sharp quotations to distinguished men, and, conscious that you dare not question their authenticity, of course she "bluffs" you right down. When you go to your room and read up, and find she has really "bluffed" you, of course you are too gentle to mention it, and so this Boston girl goes on pluming herself at the expense of New York gallantry.

Yesterday, the Boston girl was at it again. Somebody asked her who was the oldest, Mathuselah of Deuteronomy.

"Why, Barnes, the commentator, says 'Deuteronomy came before Numbers'—of course he's too old to be computed."

Now, I knew she lied, but still I had a doubt about it. I didn't want to break out and say Deuteronomy came after Numbers, and then have those miserable Boston fellows say with that terrible upward inflection, "How are you, Eli Perkins?" Oh! no. But when I did go up to my room I sent out to a gentleman in Saratoga who has several Bibles to lend, and got the Pentateuch—and, sure enough, just my luck, that miserable, pedantic, spectacled Boston girl was right.

If you sit down by this Boston girl and don't behave like a minister she don't get mad and pout. Oh! no. She says, "Mr. Tompkins, shall I repeat you a few lines from Scribner's?" and then she goes on:

Why can't you be sensible, Harry?
I don't like men's arms on my chair;
Be still! If you don't stop this nonsense,
I'll get up and leave you;—so there!

And when you take out a solitaire ring, or try to "seal the vow," or something of that sort, as New York fellows always try to do with almost every Boston girl who comes here, she looks up, blushing, and in the language of Swinburne, poetically remarks:

There! somebody's coming—don't look so—
Get up on your own chair again—
Can't you seem as if nothing had happened?
I never saw such geese as you men!

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.

CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.

JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

A Good Dog Story.

It does not make any difference whether your name is Keyser or not, if you want to buy a dog, there is one for sale cheap on a canal boat now braving the billows somewhere east of Frankfort. The Captain of the boat is an Oswego man, and it is but one short week since he spliced his mainbrace and let out the reefs in his driver, and got three sheets in the wind, and made all necessary preparations for a prosperous voyage. His wife sang, "Write me a Letter, Love," in the cabin; his children played on deck; his steeds aired their frames on the tow path, his hand was on the rudder, and his mate was just recovering from his farewell attack of delirium tremens in the forward cabin. The Captain gazed proudly around him, and could think of nothing necessary to complete his happiness; but his wife, wiser than he, thought they needed a dog—a nice Newfoundland—to play with the children, fish them out when they fell in the canal, and watch the deck hands when the Captain was off after groceries.

Coming through West Utica on Saturday the Captain bought a nice Newfoundland dog. He got him at a bargain; in fact, he got him for nothing, so to speak, because the man who owned the dog was not around at the time the bargain was made. The Captain had the dog, but still he was not happy. The dog had a way of barking at passing crafts, and so drew upon his Captain's boat frequent showers of coal and wood, and he would dive down the steep steps into the cabin and suddenly upset the Captain's wife. Once he lit right on the table and spoiled a pound of butter, and he was altogether too playful.

Yesterday the Captain, who is a pious man, tied up, and put out his plank just east of the city, and started with his children to go to the park and to observe the day after the manner of this vicinity. The dog started, too, and as soon as he got on shore he began to caper and wag his tail, and so wagged one of the children flat on its blessed back. The baby yelled, and the Captain made some tender remarks as he set it on its pious feet and some other remarks as he shook his fist at the dog. The dog misunderstood the man, but he knocked the other child into the canal, and the father, without waiting to make any remarks, jumped in after it. The dog, being to the water-born, knew just what to do, and he went cavorting off to get a good headway, barking to himself at every jump, and just as the man got to the top of the water with his darling child, the dog took a flying leap of about twenty feet and struck on top of the man. Well, the water that man spurted around was boiling hot with the oaths he sputtered with it, and his wife pranced around on the deck of the boat and flung a pole to the old man, which the dog promptly dragged and pulled ashore, and that captain was nearly drowned before he trod the sod again.

The dog is an intelligent animal—very intelligent, indeed; and just as soon as he saw that mariner's face he knew that something was wrong, so he slunk up the plank on board. The captain gathered what loose granite and lumber he could in a hurried but earnest search, and marched up the plank, the grimmest figure of Neptune ever done in Mohawk Valley mud. As soon as he got on board he opened a hot fire on the dog, and that sagacious brute went yelping through the forward hatch, and struck in the bunk, where the mate lay musing about the devil. When the mate saw the dog he thought the evil one had come for him sure enough, and he braced himself for one last fight, so that when the captain jumped down in pursuit of the dog, there was a mutual misunderstanding all around. The captain's wife looked down and tried to explain, but there was a confused whirlpool of bunk boards and hair, and bedding, and legs, and arms, with an occasional infusion of dog, that it seemed idle to waste her breath in talking to such a circus.

To-day the bow of that fatal craft cuts the water solemnly, and at the helm stands the wreck of that captain, fastened together with strips of plaster, and smelling of liniment, and ever and anon he surrenders the rudder to his wife, while he goes forward to hammer a dejected dog, which is for sale, or to listen to the ravings of the maniac confined under the forward hatch.—Utica Herald.

The Boston Young Lady.

SHE COMES, SEES AND CONQUERS ELI PERKINS.

From the New York Graphic.

The Boston young lady has arrived at Saratoga. I mean the real literary young lady—the Siege-of-Troy girl. She grew up in Boston, and graduated at Vassar college last year. She wears eye-glasses, and is full of wisdom. She scans Homer, rattles the verb "icipo" like the multiplication table, sings Anacreon to the old Greek melodies, and puts up her hair after the statue of the Venus of Milo. There is no end to her knowledge of the classical dictionary; and when it comes to Charles Lamb or Sydney Smith—Sotherns of literature—those who never wrote much, but got the credit of every good joke in England—she can say their jokes as a Catholic says his beads. If you ask her how she likes babies, she answers:

"How?' Well, as Charles Lamb remarked, 'I like 'em b—b—boiled.'"

Ask her anything, and she will always lug in a quotation from some pedantic old fool like Dr. Johnson or Swift or Jack Bunsby, just to show you that she is up in literature, and that you are—green. Not a single original idea, but one constant "as Socrates said," or "as Pluto remarked," "as Diogenes observed." Yesterday, some sharp, shrewd, original New York young ladies got hold of the pedantic business, and introduced a funny paraphrase on Miss Boston's language.

"Do you love music, Sallie?"

"Well, 'yes,' as the poet observed."

"How many glasses did you drink this morning?"

"'Six,' as Mr. Daball pathetically remarked in his arithmetic."

"Dance the round dances?"

"'No, as the lord mayor of London quietly observed as John Ruskin asked him for the loan of $4."

The Boston girl is so well posted that she wins triumphs over you by a sort of literary "bluff" game. She attributes sharp quotations to distinguished men, and, conscious that you dare not question their authenticity, of course she "bluffs" you right down. When you go to your room and read up, and find she has really "bluffed" you, of course you are too gentle to mention it, and so this Boston girl goes on pluming herself at the expense of New York gallantry.

Yesterday, the Boston girl was at it again. Somebody asked her who was the oldest, Mathuselah of Deuteronomy.

Now, I knew she lied, but still I had a doubt about it. I didn't want to break out and say Deuteronomy came after Numbers, and then have those miserable Boston fellows say with that terrible upward inflection, "How are you, Eli Perkins?" Oh! no. But when I did go up to my room I sent out to a gentleman in Saratoga who has several Bibles to lend, and got the Pentateuch—and, sure enough, just my luck, that miserable, pedantic, spectacled Boston girl was right.

If you sit down by this Boston girl and don't behave like a minister she don't get mad and pout, Oh! no. She says, "Mr. Tompkins, shall I repeat you a few lines from Scribner's?" and then she goes on:

Why can't you be sensible, Harry?
I don't like men's arms on my chair;
Be still! If you don't stop this nonsense,
I'll get up and leave you;—so there!

And when you take out a solitaire ring, or try to "seal the vow," or something of that sort, as New York fellows always try to do with almost every Boston girl who comes here, she looks up, blushing, and in the language of Swinburne, poetically remarks:

There! somebody's coming—don't look so—
Get up on your own chair again—
Can't you seem as if nothing had happened?
I never saw such geese as you men!

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.
CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.
JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Wednesday Morning, Aug. 20.

The Black Crook performance, regalvanized and reconstructed, put in a fourth season's appearance at Niblo's theatre, New York, Monday night. Of course the audience was a packed one, and amply content to remain seated until midnight to witness a surfeit of ballet dancing, which becomes an absolute bore to most spectators long before the close of the acts, and besides to see the glittering inanities that go to make up this sensational play of the period. When the drama for the masses leaves the role of the strictly legitimate, and sends the largest paying audiences to "Black Crook" and "Humpty Dumpty" nonsense, the best days of the theatre may well be considered numbered, save when crediting the well known changing views of the American people.

In this age of scientific research probably one of the most important subjects to all is the question of full supplies of pure drinking water. The insiduous nature of many maladies fatal to the human race having been traced to the effects of bad air and impure water, shows the value of reaching definite conclusions in such particulars. Well water, as proven, is often contaminated by the filtration of unwholesome substances, which are then held in a state of solution. Running water is chiefly objected to by reason of the sewerage from populous places that finds its way into adjacent streams. Some chemists have attempted to prove that such noxious matter is soon dissipated by the action of running water; but the far largest part of scientific testimony disproves this theory. The only remaining means, therefore, to get undoubted pure water is either to utilize sewerage, by using it like guano for land, or else to bore artesian wells.

Why is this Thus?

RONDOUT AND OSWEGO RAILROAD COMPANY BONDS AT AUCTION.
ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON will sell at auction on WEDNESDAY, Aug. 20, at 12:30 o'clock, at the Exchange Sales-room, No. 111 Broadway,
(For account of whom it may concern,)
$40,000 Rondout and Oswego Railroad Company first mortgage seven per cent. gold bonds (hypothecated); $1,000 each.

Limitation of Law.

The recent railway accident near Chicago only calls upon us to restate what we said about a similar smash on the Hudson River Railroad a short time since. That is, let us not rush into legislation about these things. We have railroad law enough now to kill the entire traveling public within a month if it were enforced. "Accidents will happen" says the old saw. There are uncertainties in the world that no human foresight can provide against. This is sufficiently shown by the fact that almost unlimited legislation about the management of public vehicles of all kinds does not prevent a given amount of casualties. The only protection, after law is exhausted, is the tendency of selfishness to look out for number one. Yet when the law can whip a corporation, the punishment is either deserved or soon will be.

Another Religious Lawsuit.

The dogs of legal war are about to be let slip between that tremendous body called "The Sea Cliff Camp Meeting and Metropolitan Association" and the ladies who owned and managed a benevolent affair yclept "The Beulah Mission and Home for the Aged." The gist of the trouble seems to be that the managers of the organization first named have been guilty of sharp practice in a mutual transfer of real estate between them and the ladies.—The case will be tried in the Superior Court at an early day, when the facts will be presented. We have but one comment to make. That is, that as long as church scandals in high quarters are so common and inveterate, Missionary reports are very facetious reading. The United States, ecclesiastically considered, had better fumigate its moral character before it votes another dollar to convert the heathen. A much wider and tougher field is rank for the pruning-hook near home.

The French Republic

Is going to the dogs, just as every rational being on earth expected it would, sooner or later. The Government has either suppressed or forbidden the sale of twenty Republican newspapers in the provinces, during the month. And France is a republic! This result is as natural as consumption is to folks who live on damp ground. We say with the utmost possible emphasis, the French character is too shallow for freedom. They don't know what it is and never knew. Its cant and its catchwords they learn with fearful facility; its spirit and laws they never apprehended. France can tumble, like an acrobat, from one form of government to another, but the leaven of despotism in royal lines will find a fitting element to work upon in the hero-worship of the masses. Mac Mahon's baby republic will become an adult monarchy before long, and like all that have gone before it, it will be baptised with blood and consecrated by priestly executioners on altars erected to the Devil.

Ah, France, la belle, what promise and what failures make your troubled history!

Simple Meanness.

Some Tribune writer drops this bit of sweetness on the dusty ways of August, and sets us all to the task of a pleasant and possibly, also, a sad review of past years:

"All mankind love lovers, it is said, only because they, too, have taken the part of the immortal pair. Which of us has not played that world-old, unchanging drama to its conclusion, well or ill? Which of us has not, while that fond fever lasted, risen to heights of unselfishness and a generosity unknown before? How wonderful, as though new-born, was the world to us then? How every man was a brother who had known our pain and tasted our joy; how dreadful a thing it was to be alive; how near was God behind that life! So now if Celadon and Celia coming into view in this bright August weather engross too much of its air and sun, let us forgive them their innocent selfishness in the remembrance of the days when we too acted their divine drama, and so were better men and women than we are, and bid them Godspeed upon their way, 'thridding the sombre boscage of this wood unto the morning star.'"

Upon these lines the Times thus comments:

"If that does not satisfy the reader that the 'new school' of journalism is very much superior to the old school, we are afraid he must be a very poor judge of 'gush.'"

Jealousy may, like other things, be carried too far; and if the Times' notion of genuine sentiment does not satisfy the reader that the old school of journalism is much meaner than the new he must be a poor judge of trash.

That "Disgraceful Occurrence."

The Ellenville Press works itself up to a white heat of virtuous indignation because The Freeman and other Kingston papers suppressed, as it alleges, the fact of the "disgraceful occurrence" connected with the recent visit of the President to this city, meaning thereby that President Grant was intoxicated and so appeared publicly. We had given the Press credit for more sense than to accept as true the malicious report of some person desirous of starting a sensational story. The Press insinuates that the Freeman indirectly gave credence to the report by not emphatically denying it. If The Freeman has omitted to specifically deny the story it has been because it didn't think any one believed it. We have a recollection, however, that we specifically contradicted a similar report started by the Rhinebeck Gazette, which was afterward admitted to be unfounded, and since then we have not given the matter a thought. But the assertion of the Press brings the subject up anew.

While the President was in the city and at the Overlook some one of The Freeman reportorial staff was almost constantly in sight of him, except of course at such periods as when he retired from public gaze, and it is their unanimous testimony that there was nothing in his conduct to warrant the report over which the Press grows so indignant. Had the head of the nation disgraced himself as the Press alleges, does it suppose for a moment The Freeman would have kept silent about the shameful fact?

Not Dead.

In case there should be an impression abroad that Jeff. Davis is dead, we wish to correct it. Jeff. still lives and speechifies. White Sulphur is the appropriate scene of his last oratorical effort. The Southern Historical Convention met there and the ex-President addressed that venerable body. As he rose to explain there was a strong smell of sulphur in the air, proceeding, probably, from the springs in that neighborhood. Jeff. denied the ability of any Northern scribbler to write a true account of the Southern side of the late unpleasantness. No man could do that but Jubal Early. Jubal was on the spot at the time, and his sympathies were entirely in the right direction, while his head was not fuddled by any humbug about "the old flag," and all that. Forgetting the irresistible pressure of Grant's army before Richmond, and his own dramatic exit from church on a memorable Sunday, Jeff. has the cheek to assure mankind that "the South" was "more cheated than conquered" on the occasion alluded to. Jeff. is getting on in years, but his heart is as young and hopeful as when he gaily wore a hoop-skirt on his errand to the spring. He enunciates in his own jubilant and stirring style the sentiment that his "country" will be free and happy yet. To be sure he is obliged reluctantly to admit that "our institutions" are gone and the vandal hordes from Northern snows are flooding his classic acres with Yankee enterprise and Yankee machinery; yet he don't give up for that. Leading downward from his struggling soul there is a cable, and attached to that cable there is an anchor, sure and steadfast. That anchor, he delightedly tells us, is woman, mighty, garrulous, tonguey, unreconstructed woman. Upon the consistent and characteristic children of the Spartan ladies of the palm-tree states Jeff. bases his hope of the Southern future. To them he appeals from cowardly men and soft-headed, white-livered politicians. Jeff. is mad. "Alas, Poor Yorick."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The rumored "corner" in oil is authoritatively denied. The over stock at hand and the prevailing low prices won't warrant it.

—The price of coal at the mines has now a higher average than at a corresponding time last year or the year before.

—That day may be predicted when trotting parks will be put under the same social ban as the faro table and other gambling devices.

—The clothes washing business over the country is fast being monopolized by the natives of China. Eastward lies their onward march.

—Funny! The New York Custom House "ring" attempting to revive a defunct Tammany "ring" for the purpose of quarreling, and thus diverting public attention from a "ring" division of the spoils.

—The New York Sun, of Tuesday, has the following "ad.:" "Wanted—A boy who can milk and take care of a horse." Probably owing to the impossibility of procuring pure cow's milk, the New Yorkers are going into the new occupation of producing mare's milk.

—The recent address of young Napoleon IV. at Chiselhurst, though likely prepared for him by some Imperialist of France, is important as expressing democratic tendencies, which, if not meaningless, evidently point to a declaration of defiance to the royal aspirations of the Comte de Chambord.

—The Pacific Mail Company's stock, which came to grief some time since owing to the business embarrassments of the late President of the concern, A. B. Stockwell, has become a source of constant dickering among the "bulls" and "bears" of Wall street. Erie's financial status bids fair to have a rival.

—Though the late breeze at the New York Custom House will likely result in an official whitewashing the fact is a conclusive one to most New York merchants and disinterested people generally, that much official rottenness connected with the customs has an actual, tangible existence.

—With the customary recreations of the season fast being tabooed, the next thing in order will be the publication of county fair programmes and teachers' institute meetings. Let us hope the former may begin to show symptoms of rising above the "agricultural hoss trot" role, and the latter meet with full attendance and be productive of beneficial results.

—So-called "society novels" have happily been somewhat scarce of late. Olive Logan, who ever pants for notoriety, has last come to the surface with a production of this sort, which gets roughly handled by many critics. One of them remarks of her effort: "What is not slangy is commonplace. It is a book to which no serious thought seems to have been given, and from which no one can derive profit or entertainment."

—Following the recent death of the venerable Rev. Dr. Storrs of Braintree, Mass., after a continuous pastorate of sixty-two years, comes the announcement of the death of the equally venerable and more widely known Rev. Dr. Gardiner Spring. His pastorate lasted in New York city sixty-three years. Such instances of continued clerical work show that the rage for frequent change and for young clergymen, affecting many congregations, is not universal as yet.

—Would that recurring railroad slaughters could awaken more than a passing interest among our people! Public sentiment is radically wrong in this respect. No change in existing recklessness of human life on the part of railway managers can be expected until, in the event of a criminal loss of life, the parties directly responsible get the full measure of the law's penalties. Anything short of this will be in practice but a temporary expedient, if not a direct encouragement, to grow more and more heedless, except about the returns of gross receipts.

—Conjectures in regard to legislative candidates to be supported at the next ensuing state election are being indulged in in some quarters. This is well enough if it should lead to the designation of abler and more honest men than common. Of that past experience gives but little hope for too sweeping a change in such respect. Even with the quality of legislators usually obtained the door would be more effectually closed to venal actions on their part if the existing system of special legislation could be modified and finally broken up. Expect legislative corruption, and scores of useless unknown laws, until that auspicious time arrives.

—Squire Watson of Eagle township, Arkansas, has an original way of fining people for all sorts of crimes and pocketing the fines himself. When money is not forthcoming he will take stock or even old clothes. Two men named Toll and McHaney were arrested for stealing a cow belonging to Samuel Crawford. The testimony before the Squire showed them to be probably guilty of the charge, but instead of being held for trial it was agreed that they should turn over two horses to the Justice, which the latter was to sell and pay Crawford for his cow out of the proceeds. Squire Watson sold the horses, but forgot to settle for the cow. Crawford thereupon made a complaint against Watson for compounding a felony. The case is a curious illustration of the sort of justice dispensed in Arkansas by the negro and carpet-bag appointees of Clayton.

Number Two.

1,500 MILES FROM HOME, }
MINNESOTA, August 13, 1873. }

While the traveler on Western roads finds himself looking now and then for the Catskills and the broad and unique Hudson, and continually regretting he had not packed them in his carpet-bag with his clean garments and railway guide, there are many gems that delight the eye. But what with the rattle and roar of the cars, the inevitable whistle, which reached its ultimate in the hands of an insane engineer who blew three times at every road crossing, there is left no peace for one's ears.

The Susquehanna is a sluggish, muddy, languid stream, perhaps because it's in its midsummer mood, and reserves its dash and rush for the Spring performance. The Juniata, however, in many places justifies the appellation of the poet. "The Bright Juniata" sparkles in the sunlight, and shines with the richness of black marble in the shadows which the hills and the thick trees cast in rapid succession upon its waters. But the Juniata canal is a jolly joke. How in some parts the boats contrive to pass we could not conceive and only solved the conundrum by the conclusion that perhaps there was but one. At any rate in thirty miles' travel along its route but one made its appearance. Our D. & H. boatmen may be interested to learn it was drawn by four mules.

The workers in iron and glass who congregate in Pittsburgh and its twin city, Alleghany, contrive with their smoke to begrime the two places into about as dirty a spot as can be found on the continent; but as the cars pass over the river and are fairly in Alleghany there is one gem that remains long in the memory. High upon a point reaching out in bold prominence stands a soldiers' monument, rising far above the din and bustle of the town, as the deeds it commemorates swell far above the dust of political strife into the clear air of historic remembrance. The smoke of the furnaces, impertinent as it is, seems to permit this to be revealed clearly, as the damps and fogs will roll back as the faith-piercing eyes of life's best soldiers seek the battlements which guard the eternal peace. Just beyond this monument is a little park. Its grass, green and bright, and its walks arranged with exquisite skill, form a charming vase for rare and rich flowers of brilliant color. The little park comes unexpectedly upon one, and perhaps its beauty is thus enhanced, but it is a real gem.

Just beyond is Beaver Falls, very busy and as dirty as busy, but noted specially as the place where Chinese labor is employed in considerable quantity. Those who arrived on the train were greeted by the committee from the works with a chorus of bows, and the pig-tails fretted the air in a lively way. Then followed some oratory, in which, as I took it, the resident Chop-Sticks were welcoming their countrymen to the city. The sentiments, though slightly obscured by the use of too many teachest hieroglyphics, would have done honor to any heathen in the country.

As the train leaves Pennsylvania and enters Ohio we pass some of the best land ever made, certainly the best I have seen except a strip in Wisconsin and another in Minnesota. Rolling gently it is evidently the paradise of the farmer. It also abounds in handsome groves. I picked out several as excursion points for our Rondout schools and societies. They will find them ahead of anything on the Hudson, and I doubt not the railroads will make favorable terms.

Here I took the longest nap I ever enjoyed, extending in fact three hundred miles, across half of Ohio and three-fourths of Indiana. The first sight that greeted us in the morning was a wreck. Just a few minutes before we came up two trains had attempted the difficult feat of passing each other on a single track, but, odd, as it may seem, had failed. The wreck was piled high in splintered confusion, reaching three times above the ordinary car. The engine was in a very demoralized state, the piston reposing in the smoke-stack, the driving-wheels were in the ditch, and the tender, in a ragged plight, had jumped clean over to the cow-catcher. The train men asked if anybody was killed, and receiving a negative answer, dropped the subject and passed on, and apparently it passed out of their recollection with the next station. A wrecked engine is something so different from the machine in motion, that we can scarcely imagine it to bear any relation to the rushing, shrieking monarch of the rail, to whose impersonation of power our hats involuntarily rise in respectful recognition. And so ours snorts its disclaimer of all relationship as it rolls us by the wreck, and rattles us through the morning mist just lifting from the sodden marshes of outlying Chicago and at last into the city itself. TELEGRAPH.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN.

FOREIGN.

NOVA SCOTIA.

A Fiendish Deed.

HALIFAX, N. S., August 19.—In Bridgewater, Lunnburg county, on Sunday last Peter Mailman is supposed to have lured his wife into the woods and murdered her, then set fire to the woods with the purpose of destroying all traces of his crime. The remains of a human being supposed to have been his wife were found in the burnt district in the woods and Mailman is now under arrest. After he came out of the woods he was heard to threaten to hang his children and persons seeing him going into the bush with them followed him and prevented the commission of the second crime.

SPAIN.

The Carlists Enter Estella.

MADRID, August 19.—The Carlists have again entered the town of Estella.

The Cortes are now engaged in the discussion of the new loan bill, the first article of which has been adopted.

A REPUBLICAN DEFEAT.

PERPIGNAN, August 19.—A desperate engagement has just taken place between a force of Carlists numbering 2,400 men and three columns of Spanish Republicans. The battle was fought in the open country between the towns of Berga and Caseras and resulted in the defeat of the Republicans with the loss of 200 men and one gun.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Flood, Fire and Earthquake.

HAVANA, August 19.—Late advices from Lima, Peru, report that a serious accident occurred sixty miles from that city. A body of earth estimated at 10,000,000 cubic yards fell from the mountain side into the valley, severely injuring a number of persons and damming up a river, the water of which had risen one hundred and nine feet above its usual height. Engineers were of opinion that the water would soon burst its barriers, when it would rush toward Lima, sweeping everything before it and submerging the lower portion of that city.

A disastrous fire occurred at Valparaiso, causing a loss of $500,000.

The towns of Petoria, Quillota, Ligna and Lirrache, in Chili, have been greatly damaged by earthquakes.

CANADA.

A Singular Accident.

HAMILTON, Ont., August 19.—When the New York express train at about 3:40 o'clock this morning was approaching the Welland Canal swing bridge at Thorold the water gauge glass in front of the fire-box of the engine burst, instantly filling the cab with steam and boiling water, so alarming the engineer that he jumped before bringing his engine quite to a stand, as the law requires, before crossing the bridge. The bridge being open, the engine and baggage car tipped forward into the canal. No one was hurt.

LARGE FIRE AT QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, Canada, August 19.—Fire broke out in Drum's cabinet factory this forenoon, but at 10 o'clock it was almost subdued. It again got headway, however, and is now raging fiercely. The factory is in ruins and a large stock of lumber in adjoining yards is in flames. Clinton's and other lumber yards in the vicinity are in great danger. McCallum's brewery has been on fire several times and two schooners at Drum's wharf have been burned. A force of armed sailors from a French frigate, men of the Dominion artillery and provincial water police are on the ground.

QUEBEC, August 19.—The fire is now under control. The wind has changed and is blowing the flames towards the river. The principal loser by the fire is W. Drum, whose loss on the factory and stock of lumber is estimated at $120,000, on which there was an insurance of $25,000. About two hundred men will be thrown out of employment, Drum's factory being one of the largest in the Dominion. J. H. Clint, lumber merchant, loses $5,000; partly insured.

AN UNNATURAL MOTHER.

Sentenced to be Hung.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., August 19.—Fannie Bush, colored, convicted of the murder of her infant child in Harrison county, Kentucky, has been sentenced to be hanged on the 14th of November. It is stated that the woman and her children were starving and that she drowned one of them so that she might be able to provide for the rest.

FATAL RESULT OF A FIGHT.

PATERSON, N. J., August 18.—Simon George, a Frenchman, aged 28 years, died at the Sisters' Hospital in this city last night. Coroner Amiraux held an inquest this afternoon, when it transpired that deceased had a fight in a drinking saloon at Little Falls a few nights ago and there had his skull beaten in, which caused his death. The authorities are making efforts to ferret out and arrest the party who dealt the murderous blow.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

Meeting of the Grand Lodge.

ALBANY, August 19.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the State of New York met here to-day, several hundred delegates being present. Committees on credentials, election of grand officers, certificates for Grand Lodge degrees and returns of subordinate Lodges were appointed. Past Grand Master J. E. Smith of Connecticut was introduced and received with grand honors, as was Past Grand Master Pond of Connecticut. The Grand Lodge degree was conferred upon nearly two hundred Past Grand Masters, who were in attendance for that purpose. About the same number are still awaiting their turn. The Committee on Elections reported the following duly elected as officers of the Grand Lodge for the ensuing year: Grand Master, Thomas P. St. John; Deputy Grand Master, Charles Vandevoort; Grand Warden, John W. Stebbins; Grand Secretary, Charles V. Clark; Grand Treasurer, Jacob Russell.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

A Treaty with the Crows.

WASHINGTON, August 19.—Felix Brunot's commission has negotiated a treaty with the Crow Indians by which they cede their present reservation, taking territory one-third as large, on the Missouri near Judith's Basin.

ASKING MERCY FOR THE MODOCS.

A number of letters have been received here from Quakers and other friends of the Indian peace policy throughout the country, asking executive clemency in behalf of the Modoc Indians lately on trial for the murder of General Canby. Many of these letters raise the question that the trial of the offenders was illegal under the decision of the Supreme Court in the Milligan case that civil courts being open the military tribunal had no jurisdiction. Another question raised was that Gen. Canby was killed while as Peace Commissioner, not as an officer of the army in war. These questions will come before the President in acting upon the finding of the court-martial.

TREASURER SPINNER'S REPORT OF MONEY DESTROYED.

Treasurer Spinner's forthcoming report of moneys and securities redeemed and destroyed during the year ending June 30th, 1873, shows a total of $144,793,962. The average daily destruction of fractional currency was over $110,000. The amount of legal tenders destroyed during the year was $650,190.67.

NEW ENGLAND UNDERWRITERS.

Election of Officers.

HARTFORD, August 19.—The New England Association of Fire Underwriters met to-day. About sixty prominent New England insurance men were present. C. C. Kimball, of Hartford, was elected President, N. A. Clark, of Boston, and W. T. Barton, of Providence, Vice Presidents, and J. J. Brown, of Boston, Secretary and Treasurer. The meeting of the Association will be continued on Wednesday.

PRESIDENT GRANT.

En Route to Burlington, Vt.

BURLINGTON, Vt., August 19.—President Grant and party will arrive here by a special train from the Twin Mountain House at 7:20 to-morrow morning and after breakfasting and an informal reception will be escorted by a battalion of the National Guard to Central Wharf, where he will take a steamer for Ticonderoga and Lake George.

CONNECTICUT.

A Forger Arrested.

NEW HAVEN, August 19.—This evening a man giving his name as George Mason was arrested for passing a forged check, purporting to be drawn by Rogers, Smith & Co., of this city, for $125. In his possession were found three similar checks ready for use, besides a quantity of Confederate money and imitation bank bills, evidently to be used in some swindle.

A BOLD JURY.

They Censure a Railroad Company.

BALTIMORE, August 19.—The coroner's jury in the case of George Allen, the fireman killed on the Baltimore & Potomac Railroad, on the 13th inst., returns a verdict of wholesale censure of the road management and employees. They censure the engineer for non-observance of caution; the conductor of the north bound train for not exercising a closer supervision and the management of the road for failure in this particular instance to issue requisite instructions in reference to the delayed express train.

THE MISSOURI LYNCHING CASE.

A Proclamation from Gov. Woodson.

ST. LOUIS, August 19.—Gov. Woodson has issued a proclamation to the people of Calloway county stating that he has instructed Attorney-General Ewing to assist Judge Beernhordt of the Circuit Court in investigating the lynching of Kessler last week. He earnestly appeals to them to render all aid possible in the matter in the way of giving information which may lead to the arrest and conviction of those engaged in the affair. He expresses a determination that the guilty parties shall be brought to justice and states emphatically that any one who can and declines to give information respecting the matter shall be treated as having participated in the crime.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

The Custom House Excitement.

NEW YORK, August 19.—The customs officers are still very reticent with regard to alleged removals. They deny all knowledge of the matter. It is stated that only four officials were implicated in the case of Platt & Boyd, whose names are not divulged.

EAST INDIA NEWS.

An American naval officer just returned from the East Indies reports that a general Malay insurrection among the Dutch subjects of the Netherland Strait settlements is apprehended.

The Sultan of Acheen expressed his desire to an American consul for close relations with the United States, saying that if this country would give him protection he would grant in return extensive commercial privileges, allow the erection of naval storehouses and the use of the best timber for ship building. The Sultan was informed that the better way to present his proposition was to send a special envoy to the United States.

HAMPDEN PARK RACES.

A Good Day's Sport.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., August 19.—About three thousand persons witnessed the opening day's programme at the Hampden Park Association races. The weather was very pleasant, but the track a little heavy from the rains of yesterday and last night. Some little delay occurred at the opening and the usual trouble was experienced in getting the races started.

The race for horses that had never beaten 2:34 was won by Clementine, beating Walter Goldleaf, Barney Kelley and Rowe's Tommy. Time 2:31½, 2:37¼, 2:31½, 2:30¼ and 2:32¼. The first heat was won by Goldleaf and the second by Walter.

The 2:26 race was won by St. James in the first, second and fourth heats, beating Blanche, Young Bruno and Barker's Abdallah. Time 2:26¾, 2:27, 2:26 and 2:27. The third heat was won by Blanche. Both winners were favorites in the pools.

To-morrow's races are for 2:21 and 2:31 horses, and the former is expected to be the most exciting race of the season.

LOUISIANA.

McEnery on the Situation.

NEW ORLEANS, August 19.—In response to a communication from citizens of Monroe as to the proper course to be pursued regarding Louisiana affairs, Mr. John McEnery writes a letter advising the calling of a state convention in December and the appointment of a committee to appeal to Congress. After reviewing the course of events in Louisiana during the past year, Mr. McEnery says the present deplorable condition of the state demands for her rescue from certain ruin the adoption of one of two remedies; either the rescue of her government from the ignorance and corruption pervading almost every department by the united action of the intelligent and honest people of the state or an utter surrender of the state to the federal government, trusting that government may institute an honest home government that will spare the people the confiscation of their property now gradually going on and consequent inevitable bankruptcy and ruin. To any one educated in the theory and genius of our government the latter alternative is hard to accept; but any government promising a better future, however irregularly instituted, is preferable to one promising certain impoverishment and general bankruptcy. When people find themselves surrounded, as we are, by desperate and straitened circumstances, commerce decaying, agriculture demoralized, capital with mercurial wings in flight, real estate depressed and depreciated fifty per cent. since Kellogg's rule and in fact all values on the decline; all this in a state of boundless resources and simply and alone due to the fact of bad, dishonest and illegitimate government, possessing neither the confidence of people at home or abroad, it is natural that they will accept relief from any hand that extends it and will not stop to enquire as to the regularity or irregularity of the authority exercised. But I hope fate is not so imperious that we shall be driven to accept so desperate a remedy. Let us hope better of those who hold our destiny in their hands. Let us appeal earnestly to Congress, trusting that that honorable body, casting aside all political prejudice and party rule, will do simple justice to a much-wronged and injured people.

THE RAILROAD COLLISION.

Investigation by the Coroner.

CHICAGO, August 19.—The Coroner's investigation of the recent collision on the Chicago & Alton Railroad was resumed this forenoon. The principal witness examined was John Puffenberger, engineer of the coal train locomotive. His testimony showed that that particular train had been run in a careless manner on the night of the accident. He says he looked at his watch upon arriving at Lemont and found that he had plenty of time to run to Willow Springs—fifty minutes and over. It was exactly nine o'clock when he left Lemont. He told Conductor Bean that he was going on to Sag to take in water, and the latter answered, "all right; go ahead." The collision occurred twenty minutes afterwards. He then compared his watch with those of some men on the passenger train and found it an hour slow. He could not account for the condition of his watch. He would not have left Lemont if he had had correct time, even though the conductor gave him orders. He did not consider Bean fit to run any train. Witness detailed some conversation he had with Bean after the accident, from which it would appear that Bean was totally ignorant of the time at which the collision took place and the circumstances attending the catastrophe. Bean has not yet been arrested, but the police authorities are on his track. The general feeling throughout the city is that an example should be made of the engineer and conductor.

—It is said that many thousand pounds of trout are annually caught among the Adirondacks which are left to rot along the shore.—Such senseless barbarism is hastening the depopulation of the streams.

—Mr. Fred Hassaurek, having an objection to being misrepresented, writes to the Cincinnati Enquirer: I must again take the liberty of stating that I am not a candidate for the Senate or any other office; that I am not concerned in any scheme to bring about political fusion of any kind for my personal advancement, or for any other purpose; and that nobody has a right to negotiate in my name on my behalf with those acting or pretending to act for the Republican or Democratic party.

—Berlin is all agog over a couple of rare specimens of human nature who are known as Adrian Jeftichjen and his little son Fedor from the province of Kostroma, in Great Russia. The father's face and body are covered with hair as thick as a wild beast's, the only visible feature being the tip of the nose. He is as black as sin and as ugly as sin's father. The child is rather pretty, with little whiskers that look like down on a duckling. They have very few teeth, and none in the upper jaw.

—The New York World thus lucidly explains a phenomenon that some Democrats have found rather alarming: "In the interval since the presidential election the party has given few visible signs of life, while the Republican party, by its possesion of all departments underthe government, has been able to keep itself conspicuously in the public eye—though not to its advantage! The quiescent state of the democracy was a necessary consequence of its exclusion from power during the lull between elections."

Kingston, Wednesday Morning, Aug. 20.

The Black Crook performance, regalvanized and reconstructed, put in a fourth season's appearance at Niblo's theatre, New York, Monday night. Of course the audience was a packed one, and amply content to remain seated until midnight to witness a surfeit of ballet dancing, which becomes an absolute bore to most spectators long before the close of the acts, and besides to see the glittering inanities that go to make up this sensational play of the period. When the drama for the masses leaves the role of the strictly legitimate, and sends the largest paying audiences to "Black Crook" and "Humpty Dumpty" nonsense, the best days of the theatre may well be considered numbered, save when crediting the well known changing views of the American people.

In this age of scientific research probably one of the most important subjects to all is the question of full supplies of pure drinking water. The insiduous nature of many maladies fatal to the human race having been traced to the effects of bad air and impure water, shows the value of reaching definite conclusions in such particulars. Well water, as proven, is often contaminated by the filtration of unwholesome substances, which are then held in a state of solution. Running water is chiefly objected to by reason of the sewerage from populous places that finds its way into adjacent streams. Some chemists have attempted to prove that such noxious matter is soon dissipated by the action of running water; but the far largest part of scientific testimony disproves this theory. The only remaining means, therefore, to get undoubted pure water is either to utilize sewerage, by using it like guano for land, or else to bore artesian wells.

Why is this Thus?

RONDOUT AND OSWEGO RAILROAD COMPANY BONDS AT AUCTION.
ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON will sell at auction on WEDNESDAY, Aug. 20, at 12:30 o'clock, at the Exchange Sales-room, No. 111 Broadway,
(For account of whom it may concern,)
$40,000 Rondout and Oswego Railroad Company first mortgage seven per cent. gold bonds (hypothecated); $1,000 each.

Limitation of Law.

The recent railway accident near Chicago only calls upon us to restate what we said about a similar smash on the Hudson River Railroad a short time since. That is, let us not rush into legislation about these things. We have railroad law enough now to kill the entire traveling public within a month if it were enforced. "Accidents will happen" says the old saw. There are uncertainties in the world that no human foresight can provide against. This is sufficiently shown by the fact that almost unlimited legislation about the management of public vehicles of all kinds does not prevent a given amount of casualties. The only protection, after law is exhausted, is the tendency of selfishness to look out for number one. Yet when the law can whip a corporation, the punishment is either deserved or soon will be.

Another Religious Lawsuit.

The dogs of legal war are about to be let slip between that tremendous body called "The Sea Cliff Camp Meeting and Metropolitan Association" and the ladies who owned and managed a benevolent affair yclept "The Beulah Mission and Home for the Aged." The gist of the trouble seems to be that the managers of the organization first named have been guilty of sharp practice in a mutual transfer of real estate between them and the ladies.—The case will be tried in the Superior Court at an early day, when the facts will be presented. We have but one comment to make. That is, that as long as church scandals in high quarters are so common and inveterate, Missionary reports are very facetious reading. The United States, ecclesiastically considered, had better fumigate its moral character before it votes another dollar to convert the heathen. A much wider and tougher field is rank for the pruning-hook near home.

The French Republic

Is going to the dogs, just as every rational being on earth expected it would, sooner or later. The Government has either suppressed or forbidden the sale of twenty Republican newspapers in the provinces, during the month. And France is a republic! This result is as natural as consumption is to folks who live on damp ground. We say with the utmost possible emphasis, the French character is too shallow for freedom. They don't know what it is and never knew. Its cant and its catchwords they learn with fearful facility; its spirit and laws they never apprehended. France can tumble, like an acrobat, from one form of government to another, but the leaven of despotism in royal lines will find a fitting element to work upon in the hero-worship of the masses. Mac Mahon's baby republic will become an adult monarchy before long, and like all that have gone before it, it will be baptised with blood and consecrated by priestly executioners on altars erected to the Devil.

Ah, France, la belle, what promise and what failures make your troubled history!

Simple Meanness.

Some Tribune writer drops this bit of sweetness on the dusty ways of August, and sets us all to the task of a pleasant and possibly, also, a sad review of past years:

"All mankind love lovers, it is said, only because they, too, have taken the part of the immortal pair. Which of us has not played that world-old, unchanging drama to its conclusion, well or ill? Which of us has not, while that fond fever lasted, risen to heights of unselfishness and a generosity unknown before? How wonderful, as though new-born, was the world to us then? How every man was a brother who had known our pain and tasted our joy; how dreadful a thing it was to be alive; how near was God behind that life! So now if Celadon and Celia coming into view in this bright August weather engross too much of its air and sun, let us forgive them their innocent selfishness in the remembrance of the days when we too acted their divine drama, and so were better men and women than we are, and bid them Godspeed upon their way, 'thridding the sombre boscage of this wood unto the morning star.'"

Upon these lines the Times thus comments: "If that does not satisfy the reader that the 'new school' of journalism is very much superior to the old school, we are afraid he must be a very poor judge of 'gush.'"

Jealousy may, like other things, be carried too far; and if the Times' notion of genuine sentiment does not satisfy the reader that the old school of journalism is much meaner than the new he must be a poor judge of trash.

That "Disgraceful Occurrence."

The Ellenville Press works itself up to a white heat of virtuous indignation because The Freeman and other Kingston papers suppressed, as it alleges, the fact of the "disgraceful occurrence" connected with the recent visit of the President to this city, meaning thereby that President Grant was intoxicated and so appeared publicly. We had given the Press credit for more sense than to accept as true the malicious report of some person desirous of starting a sensational story. The Press insinuates that the Freeman indirectly gave credence to the report by not emphatically denying it. If The Freeman has omitted to specifically deny the story it has been because it didn't think any one believed it. We have a recollection, however, that we specifically contradicted a similar report started by the Rhinebeck Gazette, which was afterward admitted to be unfounded, and since then we have not given the matter a thought. But the assertion of the Press brings the subject up anew.

While the President was in the city and at the Overlook some one of The Freeman reportorial staff was almost constantly in sight of him, except of course at such periods as when he retired from public gaze, and it is their unanimous testimony that there was nothing in his conduct to warrant the report over which the Press grows so indignant. Had the head of the nation disgraced himself as the Press alleges, does it suppose for a moment The Freeman would have kept silent about the shameful fact?

Not Dead.

In case there should be an impression abroad that Jeff. Davis is dead, we wish to correct it. Jeff. still lives and speechifies. White Sulphur is the appropriate scene of his last oratorical effort. The Southern Historical Convention met there and the ex-President addressed that venerable body. As he rose to explain there was a strong smell of sulphur in the air, proceeding, probably, from the springs in that neighborhood. Jeff. denied the ability of any Northern scribbler to write a true account of the Southern side of the late unpleasantness. No man could do that but Jubal Early. Jubal was on the spot at the time, and his sympathies were entirely in the right direction, while his head was not fuddled by any humbug about "the old flag," and all that. Forgetting the irresistible pressure of Grant's army before Richmond, and his own dramatic exit from church on a memorable Sunday, Jeff. has the cheek to assure mankind that "the South" was "more cheated than conquered" on the occasion alluded to. Jeff. is getting on in years, but his heart is as young and hopeful as when he gaily wore a hoop-skirt on his errand to the spring. He enunciates in his own jubilant and stirring style the sentiment that his "country" will be free and happy yet. To be sure he is obliged reluctantly to admit that "our institutions" are gone and the vandal hordes from Northern snows are flooding his classic acres with Yankee enterprise and Yankee machinery; yet he don't give up for that. Leading downward from his struggling soul there is a cable, and attached to that cable there is an anchor, sure and steadfast. That anchor, he delightedly tells us, is woman, mighty, garrulous, tonguey, unreconstructed woman. Upon the consistent and characteristic children of the Spartan ladies of the palm-tree states Jeff. bases his hope of the Southern future. To them he appeals from cowardly men and soft-headed, white-livered politicians. Jeff. is mad. "Alas, Poor Yorick."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The rumored "corner" in oil is authoritatively denied. The over stock at hand and the prevailing low prices won't warrant it.

—The price of coal at the mines has now a higher average than at a corresponding time last year or the year before.

—That day may be predicted when trotting parks will be put under the same social ban as the faro table and other gambling devices.

—The clothes washing business over the country is fast being monopolized by the natives of China. Eastward lies their onward march.

—Funny! The New York Custom House "ring" attempting to revive a defunct Tammany "ring" for the purpose of quarreling, and thus diverting public attention from a "ring" division of the spoils.

—The New York Sun, of Tuesday, has the following "ad.:" "Wanted—A boy who can milk and take care of a horse." Probably owing to the impossibility of procuring pure cow's milk, the New Yorkers are going into the new occupation of producing mare's milk.

—The recent address of young Napoleon IV. at Chiselhurst, though likely prepared for him by some Imperialist of France, is important as expressing democratic tendencies, which, if not meaningless, evidently point to a declaration of defiance to the royal aspirations of the Comte de Chambord.

—The Pacific Mail Company's stock, which came to grief some time since owing to the business embarrassments of the late President of the concern, A. B. Stockwell, has become a source of constant dickering among the "bulls" and "bears" of Wall street. Erie's financial status bids fair to have a rival.

—Though the late breeze at the New York Custom House will likely result in an official whitewashing the fact is a conclusive one to most New York merchants and disinterested people generally, that much official rottenness connected with the customs has an actual, tangible existence.

—With the customary recreations of the season fast being tabooed, the next thing in order will be the publication of county fair programmes and teachers' institute meetings. Let us hope the former may begin to show symptoms of rising above the "agricultural hoss trot" role, and the latter meet with full attendance and be productive of beneficial results.

—So-called "society novels" have happily been somewhat scarce of late. Olive Logan, who ever pants for notoriety, has last come to the surface with a production of this sort, which gets roughly handled by many critics. One of them remarks of her effort: "What is not slangy is commonplace. It is a book to which no serious thought seems to have been given, and from which no one can derive profit or entertainment."

—Following the recent death of the venerable Rev. Dr. Storrs of Braintree, Mass., after a continuous pastorate of sixty-two years, comes the announcement of the death of the equally venerable and more widely known Rev. Dr. Gardiner Spring. His pastorate lasted in New York city sixty-three years. Such instances of continued clerical work show that the rage for frequent change and for young clergymen, affecting many congregations, is not universal as yet.

—Would that recurring railroad slaughters could awaken more than a passing interest among our people! Public sentiment is radically wrong in this respect. No change in existing recklessness of human life on the part of railway managers can be expected until, in the event of a criminal loss of life, the parties directly responsible get the full measure of the law's penalties. Anything short of this will be in practice but a temporary expedient, if not a direct encouragement, to grow more and more heedless, except about the returns of gross receipts.

—Conjectures in regard to legislative candidates to be supported at the next ensuing state election are being indulged in in some quarters. This is well enough if it should lead to the designation of abler and more honest men than common. Of that past experience gives but little hope for too sweeping a change in such respect. Even with the quality of legislators usually obtained the door would be more effectually closed to venal actions on their part if the existing system of special legislation could be modified and finally broken up. Expect legislative corruption, and scores of useless unknown laws, until that auspicious time arrives.

—Squire Watson of Eagle township, Arkansas, has an original way of fining people for all sorts of crimes and pocketing the fines himself. When money is not forthcoming he will take stock or even old clothes. Two men named Toll and McHaney were arrested for stealing a cow belonging to Samuel Crawford. The testimony before the Squire showed them to be probably guilty of the charge, but instead of being held for trial it was agreed that they should turn over two horses to the Justice, which the latter was to sell and pay Crawford for his cow out of the proceeds. Squire Watson sold the horses, but forgot to settle for the cow. Crawford thereupon made a complaint against Watson for compounding a felony. The case is a curious illustration of the sort of justice dispensed in Arkansas by the negro and carpet-bag appointees of Clayton.

Number Two.

1,500 MILES FROM HOME,
MINNESOTA, August 13, 1873.

While the traveler on Western roads finds himself looking now and then for the Catskills and the broad and unique Hudson, and continually regretting he had not packed them in his carpet-bag with his clean garments and railway guide, there are many gems that delight the eye. But what with the rattle and roar of the cars, the inevitable whistle, which reached its ultimate in the hands of an insane engineer who blew three times at every road crossing, there is left no peace for one's ears.

The Susquehanna is a sluggish, muddy, languid stream, perhaps because it's in its midsummer mood, and reserves its dash and rush for the Spring performance. The Juniata, however, in many places justifies the appellation of the poet. "The Bright Juniata" sparkles in the sunlight, and shines with the richness of black marble in the shadows which the hills and the thick trees cast in rapid succession upon its waters. But the Juniata canal is a jolly joke. How in some parts the boats contrive to pass we could not conceive and only solved the conundrum by the conclusion that perhaps there was but one. At any rate in thirty miles' travel along its route but one made its appearance. Our D. & H. boatmen may be interested to learn it was drawn by four mules.

The workers in iron and glass who congregate in Pittsburgh and its twin city, Alleghany, contrive with their smoke to begrime the two places into about as dirty a spot as can be found on the continent; but as the cars pass over the river and are fairly in Alleghany there is one gem that remains long in the memory. High upon a point reaching out in bold prominence stands a soldiers' monument, rising far above the din and bustle of the town, as the deeds it commemorates swell far above the dust of political strife into the clear air of historic remembrance. The smoke of the furnaces, impertinent as it is, seems to permit this to be revealed clearly, as the damps and fogs will roll back as the faith-piercing eyes of life's best soldiers" seek the battlements which guard the eternal peace. Just beyond this monument is a little park. Its grass, green and bright, and its walks arranged with exquisite skill, form a charming vase for rare and rich flowers of brilliant color. The little park comes unexpectedly upon one, and perhaps its beauty is thus enhanced, but it is a real gem.

Just beyond is Beaver Falls, very busy and as dirty as busy, but noted specially as the place where Chinese labor is employed in considerable quantity. Those who arrived on the train were greeted by the committee from the works with a chorus of bows, and the pig-tails fretted the air in a lively way. Then followed some oratory, in which, as I took it, the resident Chop-Sticks were welcoming their countrymen to the city. The sentiments, though slightly obscured by the use of too many tea-chest hieroglyphics, would have done honor to any heathen in the country.

As the train leaves Pennsylvania and enters Ohio we pass some of the best land ever made, certainly the best I have seen except a strip in Wisconsin and another in Minnesota. Rolling gently it is evidently the paradise of the farmer. It also abounds in handsome groves. I picked out several as excursion points for our Rondout schools and societies. They will find them ahead of anything on the Hudson, and I doubt not the railroads will make favorable terms.

Here I took the longest nap I ever enjoyed, extending in fact three hundred miles, across half of Ohio and three-fourths of Indiana. The first sight that greeted us in the morning was a wreck. Just a few minutes before we came up two trains had attempted the difficult feat of passing each other on a single track, but, odd, as it may seem, had failed. The wreck was piled high in splintered confusion, reaching three times above the ordinary car. The engine was in a very demoralized state, the piston reposing in the smoke-stack, the driving-wheels were in the ditch, and the tender, in a ragged plight, had jumped clean over to the cow-catcher. The train men asked if anybody was killed, and receiving a negative answer, dropped the subject and passed on, and apparently it passed out of their recollection with the next station. A wrecked engine is something so different from the machine in motion, that we can scarcely imagine it to bear any relation to the rushing, shrieking monarch of the rail, to whose impersonation of power our hats involuntarily rise in respectful recognition. And so ours snorts its disclaimer of all relationship as it rolls us by the wreck, and rattles us through the morning mist just lifting from the sodden marshes of outlying Chicago and at last into the city itself. HALIFAX, N. S., August 19.—In Bridgewater, Lunnburg county, on Sunday last Peter Mailman is supposed to have lured his wife into the woods and murdered her, then set fire to the woods with the purpose of destroying all traces of his crime. The remains of a human being supposed to have been his wife were found in the burnt district in the woods and Mailman is now under arrest. SOUTH AMERICA.

Flood, Fire and Earthquake.

HAVANA, August 19.—Late advices from Lima, Peru, report that a serious accident occurred sixty miles from that city. A body of earth estimated at 10,000,000 cubic yards fell from the mountain side into the valley, severely injuring a number of persons and damming up a river, the water of which had risen one hundred and nine feet above its usual height. Engineers were of opinion that the water would soon burst its barriers, when it would rush toward Lima, sweeping everything before it and submerging the lower portion of that city.

CANADA.

A Singular Accident.

HAMILTON, Ont., August 19.—When the New York express train at about 3:40 o'clock this morning was approaching the Welland Canal swing bridge at Thorold the water gauge glass in front of the fire-box of the engine burst, instantly filling the cab with steam and boiling water, so alarming the engineer that he jumped before bringing his engine quite to a stand, as the law requires, before crossing the bridge. The bridge being open, the engine and baggage car tipped forward into the canal. No one was hurt.

LARGE FIRE AT QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, Canada, August 19.—Fire broke out in Drum's cabinet factory this forenoon, but at 10 o'clock it was almost subdued. It again got headway, however, and is now raging fiercely. The factory is in ruins and a large stock of lumber in adjoining yards is in flames. Clinton's and other lumber yards in the vicinity are in great danger. McCallum's brewery has been on fire several times and two schooners at Drum's wharf have been burned. A force of armed sailors from a French frigate, men of the Dominion artillery and provincial water police are on the ground.

QUEBEC, August 19.—The fire is now under control. The wind has changed and is blowing the flames towards the river. The principal loser by the fire is W. Drum, whose loss on the factory and stock of lumber is estimated at $120,000, on which there was an insurance of $25,000. About two hundred men will be thrown out of employment, Drum's factory being one of the largest in the Dominion. J. H. Clint, lumber merchant, loses $5,000; partly insured.

FATAL RESULT OF A FIGHT.

PATERSON, N. J., August 18.—Simon George, a Frenchman, aged 28 years, died at the Sisters' Hospital in this city last night. The authorities are making efforts to ferret out and arrest the party who dealt the murderous blow.

WASHINGTON, August 19.—Felix Brunot's commission has negotiated a treaty with the Crow Indians by which they cede their present reservation, taking territory one-third as large, on the Missouri near Judith's Basin.

ASKING MERCY FOR THE MODOCS.

A number of letters have been received here from Quakers and other friends of the Indian peace policy throughout the country, asking executive clemency in behalf of the Modoc Indians lately on trial for the murder of General Canby. Many of these letters raise the question that the trial of the offenders was illegal under the decision of the Supreme Court in the Milligan case that civil courts being open the military tribunal had no jurisdiction. Another question raised was that Gen. Canby was killed while as Peace Commissioner, not as an officer of the army in war. These questions will come before the President in acting upon the finding of the court-martial.

The Sultan was informed that the better way to present his proposition was to send a special envoy to the United States.

HAMPDEN PARK RACES.

A Good Day's Sport.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., August 19.—About three thousand persons witnessed the opening day's programme at the Hampden Park Association races. The weather was very pleasant, but the track a little heavy from the rains of yesterday and last night. Some little delay occurred at the opening and the usual trouble was experienced in getting the races started.

The race for horses that had never beaten 2:34 was won by Clementine, beating Walter Goldleaf, Barney Kelley and Rowe's Tommy. Time 2:31½, 2:37¼, 2:31½, 2:30¼ and 2:32¼. The first heat was won by Goldleaf and the second by Walter.

The 2:26 race was won by St. James in the first, second and fourth heats, beating Blanche, Young Bruno and Barker's Abdallah. Time 2:26¾, 2:27, 2:26 and 2:27. The third heat was won by Blanche. Both winners were favorites in the pools.

To-morrow's races are for 2:21 and 2:31 horses, and the former is expected to be the most exciting race of the season.

LOUISIANA.

McEnery on the Situation.

NEW ORLEANS, August 19.—In response to a communication from citizens of Monroe as to the proper course to be pursued regarding Louisiana affairs, Mr. John McEnery writes a letter advising the calling of a state convention in December and the appointment of a committee to appeal to Congress. After reviewing the course of events in Louisiana during the past year, Mr. McEnery says the present deplorable condition of the state demands for her rescue from certain ruin the adoption of one of two remedies; either the rescue of her government from the ignorance and corruption pervading almost every department by the united action of the intelligent and honest people of the state or an utter surrender of the state to the federal government, trusting that government may institute an honest home government that will spare the people the confiscation of their property now gradually going on and consequent inevitable bankruptcy and ruin. To any one educated in the theory and genius of our government the latter alternative is hard to accept; but any government promising a better future, however irregularly instituted, is preferable to one promising certain impoverishment and general bankruptcy. When people find themselves surrounded, as we are, by desperate and straitened circumstances, commerce decaying, agriculture demoralized, capital with mercurial wings in flight, real estate depressed and depreciated fifty per cent. since Kellogg's rule and in fact all values on the decline; all this in a state of boundless resources and simply and alone due to the fact of bad, dishonest and illegitimate government, possessing neither the confidence of people at home or abroad, it is natural that they will accept relief from any hand that extends it and will not stop to enquire as to the regularity or irregularity of the authority exercised. But I hope fate is not so imperious that we shall be driven to accept so desperate a remedy. Let us hope better of those who hold our destiny in their hands. Let us appeal earnestly to Congress, trusting that that honorable body, casting aside all political prejudice and party rule, will do simple justice to a much-wronged and injured people.

THE RAILROAD COLLISION.

CHICAGO, August 19.—The Coroner's investigation of the recent collision on the Chicago & Alton Railroad was resumed this forenoon. The principal witness examined was John Puffenberger, engineer of the coal train locomotive. His testimony showed that that particular train had been run in a careless manner on the night of the accident. He says he looked at his watch upon arriving at Lemont and found that he had plenty of time to run to Willow Springs—fifty minutes and over. It was exactly nine o'clock when he left Lemont. He told Conductor Bean that he was going on to Sag to take in water, and the latter answered, "all right; go ahead." The collision occurred twenty minutes afterwards. He then compared his watch with those of some men on the passenger train and found it an hour slow. He could not account for the condition of his watch. He would not have left Lemont if he had had correct time, even though the conductor gave him orders. He did not consider Bean fit to run any train. Witness detailed some conversation he had with Bean after the accident, from which it would appear that Bean was totally ignorant of the time at which the collision took place and the circumstances attending the catastrophe. Bean has not yet been arrested, but the police authorities are on his track. The general feeling throughout the city is that an example should be made of the engineer and conductor.

—Berlin is all agog over a couple of rare specimens of human nature who are known as Adrian Jeftichjen and his little son Fedor from the province of Kostroma, in Great Russia. The father's face and body are covered with hair as thick as a wild beast's, the only visible feature being the tip of the nose. He is as black as sin and as ugly as sin's father. The child is rather pretty, with little whiskers that look like down on a duckling. They have very few teeth, and none in the upper jaw.

—The New York World thus lucidly explains a phenomenon that some Democrats have found rather alarming: "In the interval since the presidential election the party has given few visible signs of life, while the Republican party, by its possesion of all departments under the government, has been able to keep itself conspicuously in the public eye—though not to its advantage! The quiescent state of the democracy was a necessary consequence of its exclusion from power during the lull between elections."

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—The price of milk has been advanced to eight cents per quart. Who get's the money, the farmers or producers, or the middlemen?

—A number of the excursionists who accompanied the Knights of Pythias found their way over to the city from South Rondout yesterday, and strolled about town, concluding "Rondout was an awfully dirty place; so much coal, you know?"

—The down town hoodlum of the feminine gender is not to be surpassed in acrobatic feats by the male of the same species. On Tuesday we saw, but only for a moment, a female hoodlum standing on her head, in a yard on Division street, while several women stood admiringly by.

Coal Arrival.

Break Repaired.

The break in the Delaware & Hudson canal above Hawley, which occurred on Sunday last, was repaired on Monday evening so boats passed the scene of the accident at 7 o'clock on the evening of the last named day.

Good Signs.

Mr. Tubby, who is a man of letters, has lately placed about the door of his paint-shop certain very neat signs. He who runs may read them; but a fellow made a mistake the other day and went in the adjoining tobacco store thinking to find Mr. Tubby. Our Shakespearean scholar suggests that probably the fellow wondered, as he entered the tobacconist's, whether it were better

Welcomed Home.

Quite a large party of friends and neighbors assembled, by invitation, at the residence of Mr. James L. Van Deusen on the Weinberg on Monday evening, to welcome that gentleman home from his European trip. It was quite a surprise to the returned wanderer, and none the less pleasant on that account. Refreshments were served, over which the party had a jolly time until a reasonable hour, when they left the hospitable roof to permit their host to take the rest needed. Mr. Van Deusen appears to have been physically much benefitted by his trip, but very glad to get safely home all the same.

Mary Powell's Steel Boilers.

As inquiries are often made as to the form, size, and weight of the Mary Powell's new steel boilers, by steamboat men, we give the following description of them. There are two boilers, of the form known as flue and return tubular. Each boiler has ten flues of different diameters, nine, fifteen, and sixteen inches, and eighty tubes of four and one half inches outside diameter. Each boiler is eleven feet front, twenty-five feet long, and the diameter of the shell is ten feet. The sheets of the boilers are of steel, having a tensile strength of seventy thousand pounds to the square inch. The sheets are five-sixteenths of an inch thick. Each boiler weighs twenty-eight tons, the weight of the two being seven tons less than that of the old iron boilers.

Improvement.

Romer & Tremper are about to increase their storage facilities by making an addition to their brick storehouse on Ferry street adjoining the Sleightburg ferry. The building is to be increased in length twenty-five feet toward the ferry, made one story higher, caps put on the windows, and a handsome cornice added. On the ground floor, next the ferry, will be a fine large store to lease. Turck & Burhans have the contract for the carpenter work and have already commenced getting out the material. The above mentioned enterprising building firm are also erecting a three story building, 28x46 feet, on Hasbrouck avenue, just above Gross' lime mill, for Mr. Basch, to be used as a store with dwelling apartments above.

Big Ingin, Ugh!

Ned Buntline, with his novel troupe of Scouts and Comanche Indians, will arrive in this city this forenoon, and pitch their extensive canvas lodge on Van Deusen's common on the line of the horse railroad, and in which they will give two of their unrivaled exhibitions, representing life on the plains of the Great West. Dashing Charlie, the celebrated army scout, trapper and Indian fighter and athlete, is one of the company of Red Men, and will appear to demonstrate to the pale faces how the thing is done in the land toward the setting sun. Ned. Buntline, the inimitable story teller, will himself positively appear at each performance and relate wild tales of the border. This is one of the most novel and interesting exhibitions ever given in this city, and should be witnessed by every person interested in the habits of the aborigines of the land. The afternoon exhibition commences at 3, and the evening performance at 8 P. M.

Overcoated Overlook.

The Overlook Mountain House is a whole town all alone by itself. The people there lead lives as much apart from the lives of those about them in the valleys as it is possible to fancy. They do not bother to bestir themselves early in the morning; but let the sun come up as it may, and without any admiration, so far as they are concerned. When it rains and the mountain is wrapped about with mist, the pleasure-seekers pass their time in yawning over novels, playing cards, dancing, etc. During the recent storm the thermometer was down to fifty-four; fires were lighted in the stoves; shawls and overcoats came into use, and there was generally a pinched and chilled look to the nose of every guest. But after the sun came and old Overlook took off his white overcoat, the spirits of those on the mountain-top rose with the mercury; the chilled looks passed away; they thawed into smiles, and everybody was in good humor.

The Knights of Pythias Excursion.

About 3 o'clock the steamer Isaac M. North, of Cornell's line, with a fine barge in tow, steamed into the creek and proceeded to South Rondout, with Storm King Lodge, No. 11 K. of P., and their friends on board. The party, which was a large one, and included a number from Poughkeepsie, disembarked at South Rondout and pic-nicked in the fine grove at that suburb of our city. They were accompanied by a fine band, which discoursed sweet music as the party sailed up the creek. It was generally supposed from reports that the Knights were to land and parade through our streets, and though many people were disappointed in not witnessing the display, our opinion is the Knights displayed rare good sense in going where they would have full swing to enjoy themselves, as that was the object of their excursion. They left on their return between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Rough on the "Caddys."

A New York girl at West Point says, "the idea that cadets are great flirts is a popular fallacy. They know nothing whatever about it. If a girl tries to 'flirt' with one, in the New York acceptance of the term, it frightens the poor young man almost to death." We should think so.

Snake Story.

Cornie Hull and two other lads, ten or twelve years of age, on Tuesday captured and killed, near Ellenville, a black snake that measured seven feet in length. Oh, what a whopper! the snake we mean—and the yarn isn't a small one.

Open Air Temperance Lecture.

Prof. Myron Leasure from Albany announces a lecture on Van Deusen's common on Wednesday and Thursday at 4 P. M. His subject will be "Temperance, Peculiar People and Millerism." The citizens generally are invited to attend.

Apoplexy.

As George Von Beck, on Tuesday afternoon, stepped from Geisler's saloon he suddenly fell prostrate to the sidewalk. Drs. A. T. Douglas and Geo. Basten, who happened to be passing at the time, stopped and examined the prostrate man and pronounced it to be a case of apoplexy. The sick man was taken to his room at the Mansion House and medical attention given him.

Another Excursion.

Another big excursion party from Stamford will visit this city on Friday. It is a union Sunday School affair and will undoubtedly be immense. The party expect to have a sail on the river, on a boat kindly furnished by Hon. Thomas Cornell, and if possible land and pic-nic somewhere on the Dutchess county side of the river.

Anthracite Coal Shipments.

The shipments of anthracite coal to tidewater during the past week amount to 427,546 tons, against 411,332 tons for the same week last year, showing an increase of 16,214 tons. The total amount shipped for the year up to the same time is 10,691,689 tons, against 10,335,489 tons last year, an increase of 356,210 tons. These figures show clearly the falsity of the statements made by the daily papers when they assert that the "combination" is restricting the supply in order to cause a deficiency, and thus enhance prices. Three hundred thousand tons ahead of last year does not look much like that kind of business.—Coal and Iron Record.

Kingston Driving Park To-day.

The first meeting of the Kingston Driving Park Association takes place to-day, when two races will come off, the first for three-minute horses, purse $450—$250 to the first horse, $100 to second, $60 to third, $40 to fourth. The second race is for 2:37 horses, purse $350—$175 to first horse, $100 to second, $50 to third, $25 to fourth. There are a number of fine horses entered for both races to-day, some of them having been in the city for several days. Mr. M. D. Perrine, the President of the Association, and S. S. Westbrook, the Secretary, both being accomplished horsemen, have made such arrangements that if carried out all persons visiting the ground will be enabled to enjoy the races amid general good order. First race to come off at 2 P. M.

The Excelsior House.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mr. Peter Weaver has completed the alterations in the building formerly known as the Powell House, and under a new regime and title announces that he is ready to accommodate the public. The Excelsior House supplies an urgent need, it being a first-class boarding house. It has been thoroughly renovated, and is as tidy and pleasant as it is possible to be. The table is well supplied with seasonable food, and there is an air of attractiveness which must commend the establishment to the good will of all who patronize it. The restaurant connected with the house has already gained a name for itself that renders unnecessary any word of praise from us, and we can safely predict that with its enlargement there will come a corresponding increase of business.

Major-General Husted's Staff.

Major-General James W. Husted has appointed and Gov. Dix has commissioned the following gentlemen as members of the staff of the Major-General commanding the Fifth Division of the National Guard:—Colonel Geo. Parker, Assistant Adjutant General; Colonel Edward D. Hoyt, Chief of Artillery; Colonel James H. Blauvelt, Inspector General; Colonel William P. Moller, Engineer; Colonel Chauncey M. Depuy, Judge Advocate; Colonel James H. Curry, Surgeon; Lieutenant-Colonel Joseph L. Proseus, Quartermaster; Lieutenant-Colonel George A. J. Norman, Ordnance Officer; Lieutenant-Colonel B. Gage Berry, Commissary of Subsistence; Major Franklin Brandreth, Major James F. Lawrence and Captain Wm. N. Ferris, Aids-de-Camp. The Division consists of fourteen counties, including nearly all those lying along the Hudson River. Major-General Husted intends that the Fifth Division shall be second to none in point of efficiency and prowess.

Personal.

Mr. William J. Evarts, the city editor of the Daily News of Poughkeepsie, having accompanied the excursion from Newburgh and Poughkeepsie yesterday afternoon, called at The Freeman establishment. He is not a Knight of Pythias, but a lively knight of the lead pencil and note book. He was unaccompanied by a knightess.

George W. Davids, city editor of the Poughkeepsie Eagle, has been appointed by the Common Council of that city Supervisor of the Second Ward, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the former incumbent, Mr. Hochstadter, and the Daily News don't like it; of course not. Sorry, ain't you, George?

John Huber, a most deserving and efficient young man, has been engaged by Mr. George North, Jr., as his assistant in his insurance business.

Creek Notes.

The steamer John Dillon, Captain James Dubois, probably has more lady friends than any craft hailing from this port. If the ladies desire a cruise on any pleasant afternoon they proceed to the wharf and signal "Captain Jim," who immediately takes them on board, presents them the freedom of the craft, makes her brave with flags and streamers to be in accord with the bright colors of the ladies' costumes, and away they go on a cruise about the creek and in the river. On Tuesday afternoon there was quite a party of lassies taking such a cruise soon after the Newburgh excursion arrived, and from the beauty of the afternoon, the placid state of the creek and river, and the total absence of any unnecessary baggage in the shape of "horrid fellows" (the crew of the Dillon are all "perfect ducks of men"), they had a most delightful time.

The James W. Baldwin, on Tuesday evening, took to New York quite a large consignment of Delaware county butter and several lots of cattle.

The steamer Ceres, of Cornell's line, has been taken off Morgan Everson's sectional docks and the Le Vergne, of the same line, is now on the docks at the same yard.

The steamers of Blanchard & Farnham's towing line between this city and Troy are now taking larger coal tows up the river than is usual at this time of the season.

Sudden Illness.

About half-past five o'clock Tuesday afternoon the young man employed by Mr. George North, Jr., as clerk went into that gentleman's office in the Newkirk building and found Mr. North lying on the floor, insensible. The young man ran for assistance and Drs. George Basten and A. T. Douglas were summoned, when, by the application of cold water to his head Mr. North was restored to consciousness, but was still too weak to remain at his office, and a carriage was secured and he conveyed to his home. Mr. North had been out of the house but a few days, having been confined for a fortnight or more with an attack of illness beginning in a similar way. We hope he may speedily recover his health.

Shinner's Team Again on the Rampage.

It is some time since Richard Shinner's enterprising team has performed any feat worth chronicling, but on Saturday last, being weary of well doing, they launched out and went on a tour of itemizing. Considering Shinner's team from the reportorial standpoint they have our unqualified admiration, for as itemizers they are an immense success. If that team was owned in Poughkeepsie, it, together with that bridge, would leave Davids of the Eagle naught to sigh for; not that the Poughkeepsie hobby is a bridge of sighs, although it is to be a large sized bridge, for Davids makes it a howling wilderness of piers and arches and railroad tracks and Eagle items.—But to return to Shinner's chevals. On the day mentioned above the gentle Shinners, who by the way, bears a striking resemblance to ex-Maj. Gen. B. F. B., was unloading lath from his wagon in a vacant lot on Fair street, in the upper portion of this city, when a bundle of said lath rolled from the wagon and struck one of the steeds on the heels. That brewed trouble, for after a short whispered conversation between the two animals they started on a run for the picket fence, which separates the lot from the street, and arriving at the four feet high barrier the horses vaulted lightly over it, carrying the forward part of the wagon with them clear of the pickets, but the after part struck the fence, knocking a portion of it down. In the street the runaways collided with the horse and buggy of Mr. R. R. Martin, capsizing horse and wagon, from the latter of which the top was torn and both springs broken. The horse was scratched but not otherwise injured. Shinner's team took off down street after the colliding feat, and gaining the road to Wilbur they tore down it until arriving at the pond on the roadside in Jacob's Valley they ran into that, where they were captured, seemingly well satisfied with the result of their escapade.

Lake Mohonk and the Overlook.

A correspondent of the Springfield Republican who has visited the above named summer resorts, and taken a survey of our city, in writing to his newspaper speaks as follows of what he saw, and as he evidently knows whereof he speaks we give his opinions, as they will, we think, lead us "to see ourselves as others see us:"

"Just now the centers of attraction for the region fronting the east and southeast are the Overlook mountain and Lake Mohonk. The southeastern portion of the Catskills and its adjacent realm, the Shandaken and Shawangunk ranges that connect it with the Alleghanies, have been little known, save to the people in its vicinity. But for wealth of mountain view and sweetness of lowland loveliness this region far excels the portion formerly known as the Catskills. The base of operations for this country is Kingston on the Hudson; now, with its river port, Rondout, known by the high-sounding title of the City of Kingston,—a queer medley of old Dutch sleepiness, Irish briskness and genuine New York culture. The hotels thereabout will not tempt you to tarry; indeed, all the country hotels in this region go by whiskey, and we flavor our leaves with few regrets. A ride of six miles on the railroad to West Hurley station puts you aboard the Overlook Mountain House wagons, and a slow, toilsome jolt of four hours carries you over the nine miles of meadow and mountain to the summit. Here, 3,000 feet above the sea, you find a mountain house, on the whole, well kept, at New York charges, with a friendly and intelligent landlord. Two hundred and fifty feet above the house rises the summit, a crown of awful precipices; and from the various points that can be reached by a child in an hour's walk, is doubtless the grandest outlook accessible among these hills. The mountain is the natural observatory for the southeastern Catskill and Shandaken ranges, cut off by deep, wooded gorges from the loftier ridges and peaks in its rear, miles of which are commanded from the piazza of the house. The grand Shandaken range is best seen here, with its summit, Peak o'Moon, supposed to be the loftiest in the entire region. We might be tempted, by social considerations, to stay at the Overlook, for, this year, it is visited by some of the best people in the country; but a mountain top 3,000 feet above tide-water, has, at best, a rough summer climate, and the violent changes among the Catskills try even a vigorous constitution. It has proved a formidable rival to the Mountain House, and, this year, is crowded with guests, though the country immediately around the latter is full of attractions and more interesting to the tourist.

A ride on the Walkill Valley Railroad from Kingston of an hour brings you to the sleepy little village of New Paltz, and five miles of very easy mountain riding lands you at the Lake Mohonk house. Here, on the northern end of the Shawangunk range of lofty hills, is a place foreordained to be a favorite summer resort. At an altitude of 1200 feet above the Hudson, in a deep rocky gorge of the mountain, lies the sweetest of highland lakes, half a mile in length, deep, clear, and surrounded by headlong precipices. The whole mountain is a vast tumble of rocks piled in the most fantastic shapes, heavily wooded and a natural flower garden. Here the arbutus, the azalea, the laurel, in succession, clothe the rocky slopes with early summer beauty. There is an endless variety in the wondrous rock scenery, and a whole season would hardly suffice to explore this wild and wonderful labyrinth. But from the two summits, Sky Top and Eagle's Cliff, in addition, an outlook is gained, not inferior to any in the whole Catskill region; in some respects unrivaled in America. The valleys of the Rondout and the Wallkill lie below, beautiful as Paradise, the great grazing and dairy farms of the city. Eastward can be traced the course of the Hudson, and the line of the Green mountains with their most commanding summits. The whole western horizon is crowded by piled-up walls of azure, stretching from the Alleghanies in the southwest to the cone of Overlook in the north—certainly the most satisfying view we have yet seen of any extended portion of this range. Here is a large boarding-house, admirably kept, for a wonder, in this State, without liquor or the noisy nuisances of interminable dancing, bawling and racketing that make our American watering places the disgust of all quiet souls. For a restful season, amid exquisite scenery, with the best of quiet company, at endurable prices, in easy distance of the great eastern cities, this is, so far, the best mountain house we have found. Another year the house will be greatly enlarged, and, while as well kept as now, the crowd that comes to it will not diminish. From Springfield the speediest route would probably be to New York; then four hours on the Erie Railroad, via Goshen to New Paltz, and nobody who undertakes the expedition will regret the venture." M.

VICINITY.

—Sunday night Cohoes had a fire which might have resulted most seriously to that city.

—A stabbing affray in Troy. The weapon used was a pocket knife. Wounds may result fatally, as one lung is punctured.

—Cases of small-pox are still reported at Hyde Park, Bellevue, and at other points in the vicinity of Scranton.

—Wm. Johnson was fatally injured by being struck by a car on the Boston & Albany Railroad at Shaker's Station, Columbia county.

—The Troy Times says there were twelve funerals in that city Sunday. A large portion of the number were children, victims of cholera infantum.

—Detective Dwyer arrested Henry O. Lansing, the Hudson agent of the Domestic Sewing Machine, for embezzlement, on Saturday. He is charged with appropriating to his own use while acting as agent, property and effects to the value of $1,500. He was taken to Hudson.—Albany Argus.

—Catskill "sports" are partial to going to Hudson on Sundays, with "nobby rigs" for a good time—ending not uncommonly in the lock-up over night.

—The Sunday liquor law was quite universally observed in Troy. Lager beer was dispensed at some saloons, and they will be complained of.

—The Telegraph learns that a young lady boarder at Bethlehem, near Salisbury, was thrown from a horse on Saturday and had a shoulder dislocated.

—James Quinn, a deserter from the United States army, was arrested in Albany, Sunday, by Sergeant Bailey and turned over to the proper authorities.

—The body of a colored man found floating in the river at Albany a few days ago proved to be that of Jacob Thompson, cook on the steamboat O. C. Hubbard. His friends think he was murdered and then thrown into the river.

—On Sunday evening, says the Poughkeepsie Press, as a young girl, aged about twelve years, was carrying an infant of about seven months in her arms, in Bridge street, near Mansion, a stone came from some quarter unknown and struck the baby in the back of the head, and then glancing hit the girl in the face. The baby received a slight bruise.

OUR FREE PARLIAMENT.

Orson Vandevoort for Sheriff.

RONDOUT, August 19, 1873.

EDITOR FREEMAN:

Sir—In your issue of to-day I noticed the name of Orson Vandevoort as a candidate for Sheriff. Mr. Vandevoort would make an efficient officer and one upon whom dependence could be placed. His name should be favorably received by the County Convention, as he can in no manner be linked with the "frauds" that have been perpetrated upon the people and tax-payers for the few years past. It is time that the people wake up to the selection of honest and incorruptible men for office.

A HINT TO HOUSEWIVES.—HOW TO KEEP KITCHEN WARE CLEAN AND BRIGHT.—Every housewife of neat and tidy habits takes especial delight in keeping all the tin, copper and iron ware of her kitchen as clean and bright as painstaking labor can make them. A pride in this direction is commendable, and always meets the smiling approval of the "tyrant man" who pays the household bills. Remember that SAPOLIO is the only thing on earth that will make an old tarnished tin pan or a rusty kettle shine as bright as new. And by the use of Sapolio it is the quickest and easiest thing in the world to keep every utensil in a high state of polish.

Pianos.

I am prepared to furnish Pianos and Organs of any manufacturer at a reduced price; also second-hand Pianos for sale or rent.

CITY ORDINANCE.—An Ordinance to regulate auction sales and hawking and peddling. Passed July 25th, 1873.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. All auction sales are hereby forbidden in said city unless in each case a license in writing for that purpose be first obtained from the Mayor, for which he shall demand and receive, before granting such license, five dollars for each day of sale so allowed, not exceeding three days; twenty-five dollars for any longer period not exceeding one month; thirty-five dollars for any longer period not exceeding six months; and fifty dollars for any longer period not exceeding one year. Every person conducting or aiding in conducting any auction sale in violation of this section, shall thereby incur a penalty of ten dollars for every such offence, and a further penalty of ten dollars for each day or portion of a day such sale is continued. This section shall not apply to sales under legal process or chattel mortgages, or to sales by the head of a family breaking up house-keeping or removing, of his or her household goods.

§ 2. Hawking and peddling in the streets of said city are hereby prohibited unless a license for that purpose be first obtained from the Mayor, for which he shall demand and receive before granting such license, a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty-five dollars. Such license shall specify the period for which it is granted, which shall not exceed one year from the day of its date. Every person hawking or peddling in violation of this section shall thereby incur a penalty of ten dollars for each and every such offence. This section shall not apply to farmers or gardeners bringing their own produce to market, or to fish, fruit or vegetable dealers permanently residing in said city.

§ 3. All license moneys received under this ordinance shall be paid into the city treasury.

CITY ORDINANCE.—An Ordinance or resolutions for the grading of St. Mary's Street. Passed July 25th, 1873.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston do ordain and resolve as follows:

RESOLVED, That St. Mary's Street in said city be graded to its full width according to the following grade which is hereby established as the grade of said street, viz.: Commencing at a point on the northerly corner of St. Mary's Street and Hasbrouck Avenue, at an elevation of seventy-two and one-tenth (72 1-10) feet above the city datum level; thence along St. Mary's Street on a uniformly ascending grade of two and nine-hundredth (2 9-100) feet in one hundred and eighty (180) feet to an elevation of seventy-four and nineteen-hundredths (74 19-100) feet above said datum level; thence on a uniformly descending grade of seven and fifty-nine-hundredths (7 59-100) feet in two hundred and twenty-two (222) feet to an elevation of sixty-six and sixty-hundredths (66 60-100) feet above said datum level; and thence on a uniformly ascending grade of eleven and eighty-hundredths (11 80-100) feet in one hundred and twenty-two (122) feet to an elevation of seventy-eight and forty-hundredths (78 40-100) feet above said datum level at the intersection of St. Mary's Street with Chambers Street.

RESOLVED, That such grading be done by the lowest bidder and under the direction of the Superintendent of streets, sewers and city property, and that twenty-five per centum of the expense thereof be paid by a general tax upon the city, and that seventy-five per centum of such expense be defrayed by special assessment upon such portions of the real estate in said city bordering on or touching said St. Mary's Street, and against the owners or occupants thereof, as the assessors of said city shall deem more immediately benefitted by such improvement.

CITY NOTES.

—The price of milk has been advanced to eight cents per quart. Who get's the money, the farmers or producers, or the middlemen?

—A number of the excursionists who accompanied the Knights of Pythias found their way over to the city from South Rondout yesterday, and strolled about town, concluding "Rondout was an awfully dirty place; so much coal, you know?"

—The down town hoodlum of the feminine gender is not to be surpassed in acrobatic feats by the male of the same species. On Tuesday we saw, but only for a moment, a female hoodlum standing on her head, in a yard on Division street, while several women stood admiringly by.

Coal Arrival.

Break Repaired.

The break in the Delaware & Hudson canal above Hawley, which occurred on Sunday last, was repaired on Monday evening so boats passed the scene of the accident at 7 o'clock on the evening of the last named day.

Good Signs.

Mr. Tubby, who is a man of letters, has lately placed about the door of his paint-shop certain very neat signs. He who runs may read them; but a fellow made a mistake the other day and went in the adjoining tobacco store thinking to find Mr. Tubby. Our Shakespearean scholar suggests that probably the fellow wondered, as he entered the tobacconist's, whether it were better

Welcomed Home.

Quite a large party of friends and neighbors assembled, by invitation, at the residence of Mr. James L. Van Deusen on the Weinberg on Monday evening, to welcome that gentleman home from his European trip. It was quite a surprise to the returned wanderer, and none the less pleasant on that account. Refreshments were served, over which the party had a jolly time until a reasonable hour, when they left the hospitable roof to permit their host to take the rest needed. Mr. Van Deusen appears to have been physically much benefitted by his trip, but very glad to get safely home all the same.

Mary Powell's Steel Boilers.

As inquiries are often made as to the form, size, and weight of the Mary Powell's new steel boilers, by steamboat men, we give the following description of them. There are two boilers, of the form known as flue and return tubular. Each boiler has ten flues of different diameters, nine, fifteen, and sixteen inches, and eighty tubes of four and one half inches outside diameter. Each boiler is eleven feet front, twenty-five feet long, and the diameter of the shell is ten feet. The sheets of the boilers are of steel, having a tensile strength of seventy thousand pounds to the square inch. The sheets are five-sixteenths of an inch thick. Each boiler weighs twenty-eight tons, the weight of the two being seven tons less than that of the old iron boilers.

Improvement.

Romer & Tremper are about to increase their storage facilities by making an addition to their brick storehouse on Ferry street adjoining the Sleightburg ferry. The building is to be increased in length twenty-five feet toward the ferry, made one story higher, caps put on the windows, and a handsome cornice added. On the ground floor, next the ferry, will be a fine large store to lease. Turck & Burhans have the contract for the carpenter work and have already commenced getting out the material. The above mentioned enterprising building firm are also erecting a three story building, 28x46 feet, on Hasbrouck avenue, just above Gross' lime mill, for Mr. Basch, to be used as a store with dwelling apartments above.

Big Ingin, Ugh!

Ned Buntline, with his novel troupe of Scouts and Comanche Indians, will arrive in this city this forenoon, and pitch their extensive canvas lodge on Van Deusen's common on the line of the horse railroad, and in which they will give two of their unrivaled exhibitions, representing life on the plains of the Great West. Dashing Charlie, the celebrated army scout, trapper and Indian fighter and athlete, is one of the company of Red Men, and will appear to demonstrate to the pale faces how the thing is done in the land toward the setting sun. Ned. Buntline, the inimitable story teller, will himself positively appear at each performance and relate wild tales of the border. This is one of the most novel and interesting exhibitions ever given in this city, and should be witnessed by every person interested in the habits of the aborigines of the land. The afternoon exhibition commences at 3, and the evening performance at 8 P. M.

Overcoated Overlook.

The Overlook Mountain House is a whole town all alone by itself. The people there lead lives as much apart from the lives of those about them in the valleys as it is possible to fancy. They do not bother to bestir themselves early in the morning; but let the sun come up as it may, and without any admiration, so far as they are concerned. When it rains and the mountain is wrapped about with mist, the pleasure-seekers pass their time in yawning over novels, playing cards, dancing, etc. During the recent storm the thermometer was down to fifty-four; fires were lighted in the stoves; shawls and overcoats came into use, and there was generally a pinched and chilled look to the nose of every guest. But after the sun came and old Overlook took off his white overcoat, the spirits of those on the mountain-top rose with the mercury; the chilled looks passed away; they thawed into smiles, and everybody was in good humor.

The Knights of Pythias Excursion.

About 3 o'clock the steamer Isaac M. North, of Cornell's line, with a fine barge in tow, steamed into the creek and proceeded to South Rondout, with Storm King Lodge, No. 11 K. of P., and their friends on board. The party, which was a large one, and included a number from Poughkeepsie, disembarked at South Rondout and pic-nicked in the fine grove at that suburb of our city. They were accompanied by a fine band, which discoursed sweet music as the party sailed up the creek. It was generally supposed from reports that the Knights were to land and parade through our streets, and though many people were disappointed in not witnessing the display, our opinion is the Knights displayed rare good sense in going where they would have full swing to enjoy themselves, as that was the object of their excursion. They left on their return between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Rough on the "Caddys."

A New York girl at West Point says, "the idea that cadets are great flirts is a popular fallacy. They know nothing whatever about it. If a girl tries to 'flirt' with one, in the New York acceptance of the term, it frightens the poor young man almost to death." We should think so.

Snake Story.

Cornie Hull and two other lads, ten or twelve years of age, on Tuesday captured and killed, near Ellenville, a black snake that measured seven feet in length. Oh, what a whopper! the snake we mean—and the yarn isn't a small one.

Open Air Temperance Lecture.

Prof. Myron Leasure from Albany announces a lecture on Van Deusen's common on Wednesday and Thursday at 4 P. M. His subject will be "Temperance, Peculiar People and Millerism." The citizens generally are invited to attend.

Apoplexy.

As George Von Beck, on Tuesday afternoon, stepped from Geisler's saloon he suddenly fell prostrate to the sidewalk. Drs. A. T. Douglas and Geo. Basten, who happened to be passing at the time, stopped and examined the prostrate man and pronounced it to be a case of apoplexy. The sick man was taken to his room at the Mansion House and medical attention given him.

Another Excursion.

Another big excursion party from Stamford will visit this city on Friday. It is a union Sunday School affair and will undoubtedly be immense. The party expect to have a sail on the river, on a boat kindly furnished by Hon. Thomas Cornell, and if possible land and pic-nic somewhere on the Dutchess county side of the river.

Anthracite Coal Shipments.

The shipments of anthracite coal to tidewater during the past week amount to 427,546 tons, against 411,332 tons for the same week last year, showing an increase of 16,214 tons. The total amount shipped for the year up to the same time is 10,691,689 tons, against 10,335,489 tons last year, an increase of 356,210 tons. These figures show clearly the falsity of the statements made by the daily papers when they assert that the "combination" is restricting the supply in order to cause a deficiency, and thus enhance prices. Three hundred thousand tons ahead of last year does not look much like that kind of business.—Coal and Iron Record.

Kingston Driving Park To-day.

The first meeting of the Kingston Driving Park Association takes place to-day, when two races will come off, the first for three-minute horses, purse $450—$250 to the first horse, $100 to second, $60 to third, $40 to fourth. The second race is for 2:37 horses, purse $350—$175 to first horse, $100 to second, $50 to third, $25 to fourth. There are a number of fine horses entered for both races to-day, some of them having been in the city for several days. Mr. M. D. Perrine, the President of the Association, and S. S. Westbrook, the Secretary, both being accomplished horsemen, have made such arrangements that if carried out all persons visiting the ground will be enabled to enjoy the races amid general good order. First race to come off at 2 P. M.

The Excelsior House.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mr. Peter Weaver has completed the alterations in the building formerly known as the Powell House, and under a new regime and title announces that he is ready to accommodate the public. The Excelsior House supplies an urgent need, it being a first-class boarding house. It has been thoroughly renovated, and is as tidy and pleasant as it is possible to be. The table is well supplied with seasonable food, and there is an air of attractiveness which must commend the establishment to the good will of all who patronize it. The restaurant connected with the house has already gained a name for itself that renders unnecessary any word of praise from us, and we can safely predict that with its enlargement there will come a corresponding increase of business.

Major-General Husted's Staff.

Major-General James W. Husted has appointed and Gov. Dix has commissioned the following gentlemen as members of the staff of the Major-General commanding the Fifth Division of the National Guard:—Colonel Geo. Parker, Assistant Adjutant General; Colonel Edward D. Hoyt, Chief of Artillery; Colonel James H. Blauvelt, Inspector General; Colonel William P. Moller, Engineer; Colonel Chauncey M. Depuy, Judge Advocate; Colonel James H. Curry, Surgeon; Lieutenant-Colonel Joseph L. Proseus, Quartermaster; Lieutenant-Colonel George A. J. Norman, Ordnance Officer; Lieutenant-Colonel B. Gage Berry, Commissary of Subsistence; Major Franklin Brandreth, Major James F. Lawrence and Captain Wm. N. Ferris, Aids-de-Camp. The Division consists of fourteen counties, including nearly all those lying along the Hudson River. Major-General Husted intends that the Fifth Division shall be second to none in point of efficiency and prowess.

Personal.

Mr. William J. Evarts, the city editor of the Daily News of Poughkeepsie, having accompanied the excursion from Newburgh and Poughkeepie yesterday afternoon, called at The Freeman establishment. He is not a Knight of Pythias, but a lively knight of the lead pencil and note book. He was unaccompanied by a knightess.

George W. Davids, city editor of the Poughkeepsie Eagle, has been appointed by the Common Council of that city Supervisor of the Second Ward, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the former incumbent, Mr. Hochstadter, and the Daily News don't like it; of course not. Sorry, ain't you, George?

John Huber, a most deserving and efficient young man, has been engaged by Mr. George North, Jr., as his assistant in his insurance business.

Creek Notes.

The steamer John Dillon, Captain James Dubois, probably has more lady friends than any craft hailing from this port. If the ladies desire a cruise on any pleasant afternoon they proceed to the wharf and signal "Captain Jim," who immediately takes them on board, presents them the freedom of the craft, makes her brave with flags and streamers to be in accord with the bright colors of the ladies' costumes, and away they go on a cruise about the creek and in the river. On Tuesday afternoon there was quite a party of lassies taking such a cruise soon after the Newburgh excursion arrived, and from the beauty of the afternoon, the placid state of the creek and river, and the total absence of any unnecessary baggage in the shape of "horrid fellows" (the crew of the Dillon are all "perfect ducks of men"), they had a most delightful time.

The James W. Baldwin, on Tuesday evening, took to New York quite a large consignment of Delaware county butter and several lots of cattle.

The steamer Ceres, of Cornell's line, has been taken off Morgan Everson's sectional docks and the Le Vergne, of the same line, is now on the docks at the same yard.

The steamers of Blanchard & Farnham's towing line between this city and Troy are now taking larger coal tows up the river than is usual at this time of the season.

Sudden Illness.

About half-past five o'clock Tuesday afternoon the young man employed by Mr. George North, Jr., as clerk went into that gentleman's office in the Newkirk building and found Mr. North lying on the floor, insensible. The young man ran for assistance and Drs. George Basten and A. T. Douglas were summoned, when, by the application of cold water to his head Mr. North was restored to consciousness, but was still too weak to remain at his office, and a carriage was secured and he conveyed to his home. Mr. North had been out of the house but a few days, having been confined for a fortnight or more with an attack of illness beginning in a similar way. We hope he may speedily recover his health.

Shinner's Team Again on the Rampage.

It is some time since Richard Shinner's enterprising team has performed any feat worth chronicling, but on Saturday last, being weary of well doing, they launched out and went on a tour of itemizing. Considering Shinner's team from the reportorial standpoint they have our unqualified admiration, for as itemizers they are an immense success. If that team was owned in Poughkeepsie, it, together with that bridge, would leave Davids of the Eagle naught to sigh for; not that the Poughkeepsie hobby is a bridge of sighs, although it is to be a large sized bridge, for Davids makes it a howling wilderness of piers and arches and railroad tracks and Eagle items.—But to return to Shinner's chevals. On the day mentioned above the gentle Shinners, who by the way, bears a striking resemblance to ex-Maj. Gen. B. F. B., was unloading lath from his wagon in a vacant lot on Fair street, in the upper portion of this city, when a bundle of said lath rolled from the wagon and struck one of the steeds on the heels. That brewed trouble, for after a short whispered conversation between the two animals they started on a run for the picket fence, which separates the lot from the street, and arriving at the four feet high barrier the horses vaulted lightly over it, carrying the forward part of the wagon with them clear of the pickets, but the after part struck the fence, knocking a portion of it down. In the street the runaways collided with the horse and buggy of Mr. R. R. Martin, capsizing horse and wagon, from the latter of which the top was torn and both springs broken. The horse was scratched but not otherwise injured. Shinner's team took off down street after the colliding feat, and gaining the road to Wilbur they tore down it until arriving at the pond on the roadside in Jacob's Valley they ran into that, where they were captured, seemingly well satisfied with the result of their escapade.

Lake Mohonk and the Overlook.

A correspondent of the Springfield Republican who has visited the above named summer resorts, and taken a survey of our city, in writing to his newspaper speaks as follows of what he saw, and as he evidently knows whereof he speaks we give his opinions, as they will, we think, lead us "to see ourselves as others see us:"

"Just now the centers of attraction for the region fronting the east and southeast are the Overlook mountain and Lake Mohonk. The southeastern portion of the Catskills and its adjacent realm, the Shandaken and Shawangunk ranges that connect it with the Alleghanies, have been little known, save to the people in its vicinity. But for wealth of mountain view and sweetness of lowland loveliness this region far excels the portion formerly known as the Catskills. The base of operations for this country is Kingston on the Hudson; now, with its river port, Rondout, known by the high-sounding title of the City of Kingston,—a queer medley of old Dutch sleepiness, Irish briskness and genuine New York culture. The hotels thereabout will not tempt you to tarry; indeed, all the country hotels in this region go by whiskey, and we flavor our leaves with few regrets. A ride of six miles on the railroad to West Hurley station puts you aboard the Overlook Mountain House wagons, and a slow, toilsome jolt of four hours carries you over the nine miles of meadow and mountain to the summit. Here, 3,000 feet above the sea, you find a mountain house, on the whole, well kept, at New York charges, with a friendly and intelligent landlord. Two hundred and fifty feet above the house rises the summit, a crown of awful precipices; and from the various points that can be reached by a child in an hour's walk, is doubtless the grandest outlook accessible among these hills. The mountain is the natural observatory for the southeastern Catskill and Shandaken ranges, cut off by deep, wooded gorges from the loftier ridges and peaks in its rear, miles of which are commanded from the piazza of the house. The grand Shandaken range is best seen here, with its summit, Peak o'Moon, supposed to be the loftiest in the entire region. We might be tempted, by social considerations, to stay at the Overlook, for, this year, it is visited by some of the best people in the country; but a mountain top 3,000 feet above tide-water, has, at best, a rough summer climate, and the violent changes among the Catskills try even a vigorous constitution. It has proved a formidable rival to the Mountain House, and, this year, is crowded with guests, though the country immediately around the latter is full of attractions and more interesting to the tourist.

A ride on the Walkill Valley Railroad from Kingston of an hour brings you to the sleepy little village of New Paltz, and five miles of very easy mountain riding lands you at the Lake Mohonk house. Here, on the northern end of the Shawangunk range of lofty hills, is a place foreordained to be a favorite summer resort. At an altitude of 1200 feet above the Hudson, in a deep rocky gorge of the mountain, lies the sweetest of highland lakes, half a mile in length, deep, clear, and surrounded by headlong precipices. The whole mountain is a vast tumble of rocks piled in the most fantastic shapes, heavily wooded and a natural flower garden. Here the arbutus, the azalea, the laurel, in succession, clothe the rocky slopes with early summer beauty. There is an endless variety in the wondrous rock scenery, and a whole season would hardly suffice to explore this wild and wonderful labyrinth. But from the two summits, Sky Top and Eagle's Cliff, in addition, an outlook is gained, not inferior to any in the whole Catskill region; in some respects unrivaled in America. The valleys of the Rondout and the Wallkill lie below, beautiful as Paradise, the great grazing and dairy farms of the city. Eastward can be traced the course of the Hudson, and the line of the Green mountains with their most commanding summits. The whole western horizon is crowded by piled-up walls of azure, stretching from the Alleghanies in the southwest to the cone of Overlook in the north—certainly the most satisfying view we have yet seen of any extended portion of this range. Here is a large boarding-house, admirably kept, for a wonder, in this State, without liquor or the noisy nuisances of interminable dancing, bawling and racketing that make our American watering places the disgust of all quiet souls. For a restful season, amid exquisite scenery, with the best of quiet company, at endurable prices, in easy distance of the great eastern cities, this is, so far, the best mountain house we have found. Another year the house will be greatly enlarged, and, while as well kept as now, the crowd that comes to it will not diminish. From Springfield the speediest route would probably be to New York; then four hours on the Erie Railroad, via Goshen to New Paltz, and nobody who undertakes the expedition will regret the venture." M.

VICINITY.

—Sunday night Cohoes had a fire which might have resulted most seriously to that city.

—A stabbing affray in Troy. The weapon used was a pocket knife. Wounds may result fatally, as one lung is punctured.

—Cases of small-pox are still reported at Hyde Park, Bellevue, and at other points in the vicinity of Scranton.

—Wm. Johnson was fatally injured by being struck by a car on the Boston & Albany Railroad at Shaker's Station, Columbia county.

—The Troy Times says there were twelve funerals in that city Sunday. A large portion of the number were children, victims of cholera infantum.

—Detective Dwyer arrested Henry O. Lansing, the Hudson agent of the Domestic Sewing Machine, for embezzlement, on Saturday. He is charged with appropriating to his own use while acting as agent, property and effects to the value of $1,500. He was taken to Hudson.—Albany Argus.

—Catskill "sports" are partial to going to Hudson on Sundays, with "nobby rigs" for a good time—ending not uncommonly in the lock-up over night.

—The Sunday liquor law was quite universally observed in Troy. Lager beer was dispensed at some saloons, and they will be complained of.

—James Quinn, a deserter from the United States army, was arrested in Albany, Sunday, by Sergeant Bailey and turned over to the proper authorities.

—The body of a colored man found floating in the river at Albany a few days ago proved to be that of Jacob Thompson, cook on the steamboat O. C. Hubbard. His friends think he was murdered and then thrown into the river.

—On Sunday evening, says the Poughkeepsie Press, as a young girl, aged about twelve years, was carrying an infant of about seven months in her arms, in Bridge street, near Mansion, a stone came from some quarter unknown and struck the baby in the back of the head, and then glancing hit the girl in the face. The baby received a slight bruise.

OUR FREE PARLIAMENT.

Orson Vandevoort for Sheriff.

RONDOUT, August 19, 1873.

EDITOR FREEMAN:

Sir—In your issue of to-day I noticed the name of Orson Vandevoort as a candidate for Sheriff. Mr. Vandevoort would make an efficient officer and one upon whom dependence could be placed. His name should be favorably received by the County Convention, as he can in no manner be linked with the "frauds" that have been perpetrated upon the people and tax-payers for the few years past. It is time that the people wake up to the selection of honest and incorruptible men for office.

A HINT TO HOUSEWIVES.—HOW TO KEEP KITCHEN WARE CLEAN AND BRIGHT.—Every housewife of neat and tidy habits takes especial delight in keeping all the tin, copper and iron ware of her kitchen as clean and bright as painstaking labor can make them. A pride in this direction is commendable, and always meets the smiling approval of the "tyrant man" who pays the household bills. Remember that SAPOLIO is the only thing on earth that will make an old tarnished tin pan or a rusty kettle shine as bright as new. And by the use of Sapolio it is the quickest and easiest thing in the world to keep every utensil in a high state of polish.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston do ordain and resolve as follows:

RESOLVED, That St. Mary's Street in said city be graded to its full width according to the following grade which is hereby established as the grade of said street, viz.: Commencing at a point on the northerly corner of St. Mary's Street and Hasbrouck Avenue, at an elevation of seventy-two and one-tenth (72 1-10) feet above the city datum level; thence along St. Mary's Street on a uniformly ascending grade of two and nine-hundredth (2 9-100) feet in one hundred and eighty (180) feet to an elevation of seventy-four and nineteen-hundredths (74 19-100) feet above said datum level; thence on a uniformly descending grade of seven and fifty-nine-hundredths (7 59-100) feet in two hundred and twenty-two (222) feet to an elevation of sixty-six and sixty-hundredths (66 60-100) feet above said datum level; and thence on a uniformly ascending grade of eleven and eighty-hundredths (11 80-100) feet in one hundred and twenty-two (122) feet to an elevation of seventy-eight and forty-hundredths (78 40-100) feet above said datum level at the intersection of St. Mary's Street with Chambers Street.

RESOLVED, That such grading be done by the lowest bidder and under the direction of the Superintendent of streets, sewers and city property, and that twenty-five per centum of the expense thereof be paid by a general tax upon the city, and that seventy-five per centum of such expense be defrayed by special assessment upon such portions of the real estate in said city bordering on or touching said St. Mary's Street, and against the owners or occupants thereof, as the assessors of said city shall deem more immediately benefitted by such improvement.

KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

Woman's Glory is Her Hair.

LYON'S KATHAIRON

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER

JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article eight of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article eight of the constitution be amended, by amending section four thereof, so as to read as follows:

§ 4. The legislature shall, by general law, conform all charters of savings banks, or institutions for savings, to a uniformity of powers, rights and liabilities, and all charters hereafter granted for such corporations shall be made to conform to such general law, and to such amendments as may be made thereto. And no such corporation shall have any capital stock, or shall the trustees thereof, or any of them have any interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the profits of such corporation; and no director or trustee of any such bank or institution shall be interested in any loan or use of money or property of such bank or institution for savings. The legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any special charter for banking purposes; but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws.

And further, by adding thereto additional sections to be known as sections ten and eleven, as follows:

§ 10. Neither the credit nor the money of the state shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking. This section shall not, however, prevent the legislature from making such provision for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as to it may seem proper. Nor shall it apply to any fund or property now held or which may hereafter be held by the state for educational purposes.

§ 11. No county, city, town, or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become, directly or indirectly, the owner of stock in or bonds of any association or corporation, nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness, except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provisions for the aid or support of its poor, as may be authorized by law.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the constitution by adding additional articles to be as known articles fifteen and sixteen, as follows:

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. Any person holding office under the laws of this state, who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or of personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official act or omission to act is to be in any degree influenced thereby, shall be deemed guilty of a felony. This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe, if it be rejected by the officer to whom it is tendered, shall be deemed guilty of an attempt to bribe, which is hereby declared to be a felony.

§ 3. Any person charged with receiving a bribe, or with offering or promising a bribe, shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf in any civil or criminal prosecution therefor.

§ 4. Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defence. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county in investigating and proving any charge of bribery, or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law.

ARTICLE XVI.

SECTION 1. All amendments to the constitution shall be in force from and including the first day of January succeeding the election at which the same were adopted, except when otherwise provided by such amendments.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one and two of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or any infamous crime.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.
Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.
Locating or changing county seats.
Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.
Incorporating villages.
Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.
Selecting, drawing, summoning or impaneling grand or petit jurors.
Regulating the interest on money.
The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.
Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.
Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.
Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.
Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur). That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

S KATHAIRON

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

Woman's Glory is Her Hair.
LYON'S KATHAIRON

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER

JURUBEBA

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. § 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.
Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.
Locating or changing county seats.
Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.
Incorporating villages.
Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.
Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.
Regulating the interest on money.
The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.
Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.
Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.
Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.
Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

Resolved, (If the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.
